A tax rebate of at least $100 for almost everyone is included in an anti-recession bill given virtually final approval Thursday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

State Comptroller George W. Lindberg on Friday rescinded his order to stop delivering paychecks for 19 "ghost" employees on the Illinois Transportation Department payroll. He said he believes other actions may be more productive in reaching a showdown on state employment policies.

Mrs. Mary Lee Leahy, acting director of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, said Thursday the slipping economy may lead to more children becoming wards of the state. Child abuse and neglect are rising in some cities, she reported.

Illinois House Speaker William Redmond is studying the possibility of forming joint committees with the Senate in some fields of legislative interest as a way of saving time.

Two of the three Chicago daily newspapers, the Daily News and Sun-Times, both owned by Field Enterprises, on Friday endorsed Alderman William S. Singer for mayor rather than Mayor Richard J. Daley in the Feb. 25 Democratic primary election there.

Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott said Thursday the Illinois Open Meetings Act gives citizens the right to tape-record meetings they are entitled to attend.

Bi-state to consider sale of wharf

The Tri-City Regional Port District will learn Friday whether it will be successful in acquiring the Granite City wharf and river terminal.

The Port District increased its offer from $467,500 to $730,000 after a meeting of the Bi-State Development Agency, owner of the facilities at the southern end of the local harbor. The Port District occupies the northern harbor section.

Randall Robertson, attorney for the Port District, said the offer would be withdrawn if a decision is not made by Saturday, Feb. 15, a date agreed to earlier by Bi-State.

John G. Brawley, chairman of the Bi-State board, and Executive Director Robert J. Baer said they are encouraged by the financial offer and by port officials' expressed willingness to have Bi-State serve as regional port coordinating agency.

The agency will meet at 10 a.m. Friday to decide whether to accept the Port District's offer for the wharf area and associated cargo handling and storage facilities.

Transfer of the river terminal, located on the Chain of Rocks Canal a short distance north of the local locks, was discussed Friday afternoon in the following resume by Tri-City Port District representatives:

"Payment of $730,000 to the Bi-State Agency and the pledge to enter a memorandum of agreement with Bi-State—implementing Bi-State's desire to serve a regional role in assisting individual port districts—constitutes an acceptance of the offer made to the Port District by the chairperson of Bi-State's Waterways Commission.

"It is a response to the recommendation of the chairperson, made to the (Bi-State) board at its Dec. 12, 1974, regular meeting. This communication must be considered in that light.

"Further, the present revenue picture related to these facilities must be considered. That revenue is based on leases which are already in existence and which will bind the Tri-City Regional Port District for a period longer than the ten-year term which it proposes to use for payment of the $730,000.

"In addition, the Port District must assume the responsibilities undertaken by Bi-State in the individual leases to Granite City Steel Company, now a division of National Steel Corporation, and St. Louis Terminals Corporation with their attendant potential liabilities.

"The Port District's inquiries as to revenue available to Bi-State from the Granite City harbor facilities develops the following:

"Gross revenue, $112,000.
"Fixed expenses (excluding administrative costs, $15,100.
"Net revenue (annual), $96,900.

"Thus, net revenues—exclusive of administrative expenses and based on today's costs—would equal $96,900 in the 10-year period," the Port District stated.

SILVER BEAVER RECIPIENTS. The Silver Beaver, highest award a Boy Scout council may present to a volunteer leader, was given Saturday to four scouts at the 25th annual scout recognition dinner. Left to right are: Robert E. Schrader, scoutmaster, Troop 34, Glen Carbon; Ronald Luebber, vice-chairman, Uniwah (Quad-City) district; Floyd Linenfelser, institutional representative, Troop 40, Highland; Mrs. Phyllis Brusatti of Granite City, chairman, council family sustaining membership enrollment; and, making the presentations, Jack Vance, chairman of the selection committee.

Hagnauer elected

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor and chairman of the Madison County Board, was elected chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee during a special meeting of the committee's executive board Sunday.

Hagnauer was chosen by a unanimous vote of the 34-member executive board immediately after the board reluctantly accepted the resignation of Walter "Buck" Simmons of Venice, chairman of the county Democratic committee for the past 15 years.

Yesterday's brunch meeting at Charlie's Restaurant was called after Simmons announced plans to resign the chairmanship because of a recent Illinois Supreme Court ruling that judges, court reporters and court clerks must remove themselves from politics.

Simmons is clerk of the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon. He has held the clerk's post since 1968.

Although names of two others were discussed for nomination during the meeting—Edward Vonnard of Alton and George Donahue of Wood River—both declined nomination in favor of a unanimous vote for Hagnauer, whose name had been placed in nomination by Christ Costoff of Madison.

The executive board first accepted Simmons' resignation, effective March 1. Simmons reviewed activities of the county committee during his 15-year tenure.

"I have served a long time and I believe it is time that a new chairman takes over the reins of the county committee," Simmons remarked.

Unemployment higher in region, state, U. S.

"Unemployment has increased to 6.2 per cent in Illinois from last month's seasonally adjusted figure of 5.4 per cent.

"The recession has deepened or remained a serious economic factor in seven of the state's nine reporting Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSAs) during January," Christopher W. Nugent, Illinois Employment Security administrator, noted Friday.

"Statewide unemployment, according to seasonally adjusted estimates, now totals more than 300,000 people," said Nugent.

"This is about 100,000 more than those unemployed one year ago. Unemployment has increased because of heavier than usual cutbacks after the Christmas and New Year's holidays, especially in heavy manufacturing industries.

"There also were greater than normal layoffs in lighter manufacturing industries—especially bakeries, confectionaries and plastics producers.

"State employment service registrations," he said, "reveal an excess availability of assemblers, machine operators, laborers and other general production workers."

The total statewide unemployment rate of 6.2 per cent brings Illinois into its highest period of unemployment since the recession of 1959; unemployment reached 7.0 per cent in August of that year.

There were then 306,000 unemployed compared to 308,000 in January of this year, but there has been a significant growth in population and employment since 1958.

A 7.0 per cent unemployment level has not been exceeded in the 27-year postwar period.

Chicago, Decatur and East St. Louis were among the hardest-hit areas in the state last month. Chicago now has 208,000 unemployed people living in its area, an increase of 35,000 over December's seasonally adjusted figures. In the December-January period, Chicago unemployment rose from 5.6 per cent to 6.3 per cent, the increase being centered in metal trades occupations.

The Decatur and Bloomington-Normal areas experienced the sharpest proportional rise in unemployment. Widely-scattered layoffs from a variety of manufacturing groups raised Decatur's 5.9 per cent to 8.5 per cent in January.

The rate for Bloomington-Normal increased from 3.5 per cent to 3.5 per cent but still remained below the state level.

The East St. Louis area experienced a 1.8 per cent increase in its unemployment rate to 9.3 per cent seasonally adjusted for January.

Rockford continued to have a high unemployment rate despite a work recall in the auto industry, including several thousand employees on layoff December's unemployment rate of 10.7 per cent decreased to 8.4 per cent because of this, but it was still one of the highest rates in the state.

Significant increases occurred in two other areas. Davenport-Rock Island-Moline jumped from 3.9 to 4.4 per cent and Springfield from 3.8 to 4.3 per cent.

Jobless figures for the Champaign-Urbana area changed from 3.5 per cent in December to 3.4 per cent in January. This was close to the usual amount of workers laid off at that time of year.

Pooria's unemployment rate change from 3.7 per cent to 4.0 per cent in January, remaining relatively low because the

Railroad values rise

Property assessments of 12 railroads operating in Madison County have been set by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs at $16,436,659 for the 1974 tax year, it was announced Friday by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The new assessments are increased $328,693 over the 1973 valuations totaling $16,107,966.

The state also fixed capital stock assessments for 1974 at $4,881, an increase of $64,400 over the 1973 values of $4,816,800. Miss Bowles said capital stock values were fixed on 381 items, compared to 338 items the previous year.

Railroad assessments for the different railroads, with 1973 values shown in parenthesis, are as follows:

Alton & Southern, $394,755 ($372,119); Chicago & Eastern Illinois $320,404 ($306,599); Chicago & Northwestern $579,386 ($566,562); Burlington Northern, Inc., $535,350 ($494,446); Illinois Central Gulf (ICG) $1,337,652 ($1,314,044); Illinois Central Gulf (IC), $788,406 ($758,177); Illinois Terminal $2,707,353 ($2,597,272); Penn Central (Penn.) $1,286,729 ($1,266,176); Penn Central (NYC) $1,744,070 ($1,690,350); Norfolk & Western (NYC) $1,744,070 ($1,690,350); Norfolk & Western (Wabash) $1,926,350 ($1,880,630); Terminal Railroad Association, $2,732,852 ($2,805,360).

Robert Francis associate judge

Robert D. Francis, 40, a Granite City attorney, has been elected for one of two associate judge vacancies by the present circuit judges. It was announced Friday.

The other $36,000 post will go to either Joseph R. Bartlyak, 50, or Philip J. Rarick, 34. Runoff balloting will be conducted.

Results of the voting were forwarded to Chief Judge Fred P. Schuman of the Third Judicial Circuit by Roy O. Guley, director, Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts.

With 15 applicants certified as eligible to be considered, Francis received a majority of the votes in the circuit, and no other candidate received a majority, as required by Rule 7. Rarick and Bartlyak, the latter a former Madison County state's attorney, received the highest number of votes next to Francis.

Francis, one of six Quad-Cityans who applied, is associated with the Madison County assistant state's attorney and maintains a private law practice here.

A graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and the Washington University Law School in St. Louis, he is a former Madison County assistant state's attorney.

Rarick, a Troy resident, is a partner in the Collinsville law firm of Rarick and Cadigan. He graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the St. Louis U. Law School.

Bartlyak, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and Washington U. Law School, is associated with the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation in Alton. At one time he was city attorney of Collinsville and he has been residing in Missouri.

In 1967, while he was state's attorney, Bartlyak pleaded guilty to official misconduct. He voluntarily withdrew from the Illinois Bar Association and later was reinstated.

Percy prospects are falling due to his comments on Middle East

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy talked himself out of any chance of winning the 1976 Republican nomination for president.

This has become a major topic of discussion in Capital City political circles in the wake of the uproar that erupted when he changed his position on the Middle East situation.

The Illinois Jewish community, principally in Chicago, but also in Springfield and other Downstate cities as well, is incensed. Percy, on his return from an extensive fact-finding trip to the Middle East, proposed that Israel make more concessions to the Arab states.

Over the years, Sen. Percy has been considered a staunch supporter of Israel. His position was consistent with that of a long series of U. S. senators from Illinois, including his current colleague, Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

It has long been routine, in any Illinois race for the U. S. Senate, for both major candidates to issue statements pledging to support all-out U. S. aid for Israel and blasting the Arabs in strong terms.

Several years ago, following the customary comment by one candidate during a Middle East crisis, a wag in the Statehouse pressroom posted the following anonymous comment beneath the statement on the bulletin board — Estimated Jewish vote in Illinois: 350,000.

Estimated Arab vote: 35.

It was an accurate reflection of the cynicism with which those in politics and the press have viewed Illinois political commentary on the Middle East.

With the obvious exception of New York and, perhaps, Miami, Chicago probably has the largest and most vigorous Jewish community of any city in the United States. The annual Israel bond drive is always a smashing success.

There are probably 350,000 to 500,000 Jewish votes in Illinois and this influence is expanded not only by financial contributions but by vigorous participation in practical politics.

The Illinois legislature has traditionally had a sizable, effective and constructive Jewish delegation.

Thus, it is understandable that Percy's unpopular advice to Israel and his words of guarded approval of contemporary Arab leaders should have caused such an uproar.

That Percy continues to emphasize that he remains committed to assurance of the survival of a free Israel makes little difference on so sensitive an issue.

To be blunt about it, what might happen in the Middle East is of little consequence to most practical politicians in Illinois. What interests them about the Percy shift is how it will affect his political future.

The senator has many political foes within his own party in Illinois and they are certain to seize the issue as a weapon with which to fight his presidential ambitions and weaken his influence in the state GOP.

The new development is also certain to encourage those anti-Percy elements who would like to see former California Gov. Ronald Reagan come into Illinois and challenge Percy in a home-state presidential primary.

Should such a confrontation occur and Percy fail to win big in the 1976 March primary, his presidential bid would be finished and his political career perhaps be badly damaged.

Jimmie Walker to entertain at Black Students' program

Photographic exhibits, live bands, films, career resource days, gospel concerts, dances and performances by television celebrities will be featured by the Black Student Association at SIUE during Project Outreach in February.

Highlighting the activities will be a performance by Jimmie Walker, better known as J. J. or "dye-no-mite" from the television series "Good Times."

He will perform as part of Night Club 75 to be held in the Meridian Ballroom Feb. 22 from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Also on the program with Walker will be the Arnie-Junie-Johnny Trio, the Shieks (formerly the Spoon River Band) and the cast of SIUE's theatre group doing a scene from the musical "Carmen Jones."

Admission to Nightclub 75 is $4 per person. Persons under the age of 17 will not be admitted.

Tickets are on sale at the information desk of the University Center.

Although some Project

Outreach activities are already under way, most of the events will occur Feb. 18-20.

On Feb. 18, 19 and 20 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., representatives from the business community and from the SIUE academic community will be available in the Goshen Lounge to discuss job opportunities and educational needs with students.

Representatives from social agencies also will be there to advise visiting high school seniors and SIUE students what services are available to them both on and off the campus.

The Katherine Dunham dancers will perform their bicentennial celebration dance Feb. 19 at 1 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom. The performance will be free.

During February, exhibits of work by black photographers will be on view in the University Center.

"Black Dignity," a photographic exhibit depicting black people who lived in Kansas between 1878 and 1910 — during the time of the great black exodus from Southern states — will be displayed on the floor of the University Center.

Black Dignity was produced by Dave R. Philips, a Chicago photographer, who acquired glass plate negatives of E. Henry, Harrison Putney and Horace Stevenson, photographers of that period.

A collection of photographs of Chester Higgins Jr. will be displayed on the second floor of the center.

collection of 89 photographs titled "Drums of Life," shows the extremes of black life in America, usually the humility of poverty or the rage and anger generated by the times.

The pictorial essay has been published in book form by Anchor Books and will be on sale in the university bookstore.

Courses on culture of Europe, Russia

The Foreign Languages and Literature Department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer courses in the culture and civilization of France, Germany, Italy and Russia this spring.

Each course will be taught in English. Professors will teach the contemporary cultures of the countries.

"By offering such courses, SIUE makes it possible for our students to truly participate in a world university," Dan Romani, chairman of the department, said.

"Many times we wonder why students choose to study one language over another. Often it is felt that students choose one language over another simply by pulling the language out of a hat, without rationale.

"Consequently, we feel a student who acquaints himself with the cultures of different people can better decide which foreign language he prefers to study," Romani said.

The foreign culture and civilization courses to be listed in the spring schedule are:

GHA 342a-4 Foreign Culture and Civilization (France), GHA 342b-4 Foreign Culture and Civilization (Germany), GHA 342c-4 Foreign Culture and Civilization (Italy), and GHA 342d-4 Foreign Culture and Civilization (Russia).

The department will also offer GHA 140-4 Introduction to Foreign Language, a general studies course at the 100 level this spring.

Romani said this course will give students a sampling of the structure, sounds and origins of the Romance languages as well as the Slavic and Germanic languages.

It will be team-taught by instructors native to the languages.

"Even if a student does not plan to proceed into foreign language, the course will give him a basis on which to appreciate the differences among the cultures and languages of the world," Romani said.

For the first time in years, SIUE students will be able to study foreign literature in translation. GHA 240a-4 Modern Literature in Translation (French) and GHA 240c-4 Masterpieces of World Literature (German) will be offered during the spring quarter.

SIUE also will offer courses in foreign language off-campus this spring. GHA 342d-4 Russian Culture and Civilization and 144a-4 Elementary Italian will be taught at Scott Air Force Base. Russian Culture and Civilization will be taught in the English language.

SIUE competition deadline

February 17 is the deadline for submission of proposals under the national projects competition of the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education, according to the Office of Research and Projects of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

John Rodman, coordinator of the SIUE office, said the fund describes projects of national significance and invites applicants to qualify for participation in a collaborative activity. "Participants are selected primarily for their potential contribution to the collaboration, based on past accomplishments and secondarily on proposed activities," Rodman said.

The fund has announced that in fiscal year 1975, there will be three national projects competitions: 1) Better Information for Student Choice; 2) Alternatives to the Revolving Door; Effective Learning for Low-Achieving Students; and 3) Elevating the Importance of Teaching.

Guidelines and applications for the programs are available from the Office of Research and Projects, Room 2202, SIUE General Office Building.

Nationally the jobless rate is at a 33-year high of nine per cent, or 8.2 per cent on an adjusted basis. An added 930,000 joined the unemployment rolls in January, increasing the number to 7 1/2 million.

registered beauty culturist to cut or clip the hair of any person unless he has first obtained a certificate of registration as a barber." This has been construed to mean male or female customers.

In 1938, under an opinion rendered by the attorney general, it was established that registered beauticians could cut or trim the hair of women customers "only when incidental to and in connection with the arranging and dressing of women's hair."

On the other hand, registered barbers may cut or trim the hair of male or female patrons. Beauticians may provide all other beauty culture services — shampooing, rolling, combing, drying — for male customers. In a companion bill introduced by Senator, barbers would add to their list of practices the dressing, marcelling, waving and styling of hair, practices heretofore limited to beauty culturists.

Also, it seeks to have the business of beauty culture included in a list of establishments that may be located in conjunction with barber shops without a separating wall. Already in this category are manicuring, shoe shining and the sale of tobacco, periodicals, and newspapers, while any other business "located within the same store or room must be separated from the barber portion by a solid wall."

Adams' auto was pushed into the parked car of the Larry Miskell Produce Co., St. Louis. Mrs. Seibold was charged with reckless driving.

She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for chest pains. X-rays were taken and she was admitted.

Capt. Zabolka retires

Madison Police Captain Edward Zabolka, 1011 McCambridge Ave., Madison, retired Friday after 23 years service on the Madison police force. His career began in November 1952.

Capt. Zabolka, however, is not retiring from law enforcement. He began today a new career with the United States Postal Security Service in St. Louis.

Capt. Zabolka, his wife, Bernadette, and two children, Kathy and Eddie, will continue to live in Madison.

A member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, he is a Third Degree Knight of Columbus member. His other civic activities include membership in the Amvets Post 204 and the Croatian Lodge, both of Madison.

Capt. Zabolka is a supporter and committee member of Explorer Post 104, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Madison police.

"Organizing and supporting the Explorers is one of the best things this department has ever done, and you can quote me on that," Zabolka said.

"I regret leaving the Madison force, however, I am looking forward to the new job. After I take a three-weeks training course, I'll know more what it's all about. Postal security is a new force that is charged with the protection of the property and persons on the property of the United States Postal Service."

Capt. Zabolka is a lifetime member of the Madison County Police Association and belongs to the Illinois Police Association and the Police Protective and Benevolent Association.

5 hurt in 1-270 crash

Five persons were injured in a four-car accident on Interstate 270 about one mile west of the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge at 1:40 a.m. Saturday.

State police said the auto of John Brussatti, 4011 S. Main St., ran out of gasoline and stopped. The auto of John Brussatti, Maryville, allegedly then struck the stopped car.

The auto of William C. Parks, Florissant, is said to have struck both cars, causing Brussatti's auto to overturn and Meyer's car to spin in the roadway.

The auto of Steven Ritchey, St. Louis, then stopped to try and avoid the other cars and his auto was struck by Meyer's spinning car, it was related.

The auto was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a cut to the right side of his forehead. He was transferred to Normandy Osteopathic Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Mildred Battelle, Glasco, Mo., a passenger in Brussatti's auto, also was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a cut to the left side of her head and abrasions to her forehead and right cheek. She also was transferred to the Osteopathic Hospital.

Brussatti later went to the Missouri hospital for treatment. Also injured were Parks and Susan Ritchey, Spanish Lake, Mo., a passenger in Ritchey's auto. They were treated at other hospitals.

Carter chairman of county cancer drive

Harold Ruyle, chairman of the board of the American Cancer Society's Madison County Unit, has announced that Thad Carter, an attorney, has consented to be Madison County crusade chairman again this year.

Carter is hoping that his 4,000 volunteers will collect more money in 1975 than they did in 1974, when the total was a record $27,201.

Carter is reminding Madison County residents that April is the month that the President and Congress have designated as "cancer month" for the American Cancer Society.

Carter emphasizes that all volunteers for the ACS should be identified by name tags with the words "American Cancer Society" and the symbol, the "Hope," clearly printed on them.

Door-to-door solicitors will be giving out educational pamphlets as they make their rounds. The educational material this year features a "cancer quiz" for every family.

Summer course in London open to faculty members

Feb. 15 is the deadline for enrollment in a three-week summer course which will be offered at the Froebel Institute in London by the Teachers' Center Project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Thomas C. O'Brien, director of the project, said the course titled "Piagetian Psychology and Theories of Child Development" will be offered June 23-July 11.

Conducting the course will be Joan Tamburini, principal lecturer at the Froebel Institute; E. A. Orsborn, head teacher at Julian's Primary School, London; and O'Brien, an associate professor of education at SIUE.

In addition to scheduled events at the Institute and two London schools, participants will take part in seminars with other British educators.

Included will be sessions with Edith Slings, Her Majesty's inspector for primary mathematics; Mrs. Dora Whitaker, chairman of the Mathematics Committee of Schools Council in England; David Fielker, director of the Abbey Wood Maths Centre; and Peter G. Wason, director of the Psychology Unit of the University of London.

O'Brien said the cost of the course, which is open to teachers, administrators, school board members and university faculty, is $750, including lodging, meals, travel and tuition for a four-quarter-hour graduate credit.

Two travel plans are available, one June 19-July 11 and the other June 19-Aug. 1 for those wishing to extend their trip. Lodging and meals between July 11 and Aug. 1 are not included.

Further information is available by writing to the Teachers' Center Project, Box 49, SIUE, or telephoning 692-3082.

Bi-State

District representative related. "Administrative costs must be assigned and are presently incurred."

"They are reasonably determined to be no less than $16,000 per annum, producing a minimum total accumulated administrative cost over the ten-year period of $150,000."

"This would leave $81,900 per annum, or $819,000 over the full ten-year period, to be applied to what can reasonably be foreseen as increased operating and administration expenses and increased maintenance costs, plus possible capital improvements and other contingent liabilities."

"A full and ample hearing of the nature of the discussions between the two governmental agencies has occurred."

"The points of agreement and disagreement have been aired in the press."

"Staff personnel of the two governmental parties have been in discussion since October and public meetings on the subject matter have been held on at least seven occasions since Nov. 20, 1974."

"The last offer of the Port District has been substantially increased from $467,500 to $730,000."

"An individual memorandum of agreement between Bi-State and the Tri-City Regional Port on such general subject matter as gathering and dissemination of operating and economic data, publicity and promotions, grant applications and planning and development will be a substantial step toward accomplishing regional coordination of port activities."

"It can be considered to be the first step in the direction of existing port agencies and districts agreeing to cooperate with Bi-State as a regional agency in port development."

"The transfer of the facilities by Bi-State to the Tri-City Regional Port is consistent with Bi-State's desire to be a planner and coordinator for the individual port districts within its regional jurisdiction."

"As an operator, it may have some inconsistency in position in relation to competition with other operating port agencies, otherwise."

"The Tri-City Regional Port District is the only governmental agency which can accept or is qualified to operate the Granite City harbor facilities, and the Port's present operation lies immediately west of and adjacent to the Bi-State facilities."

"Tri-City Regional Port District is experienced in the operation of a public port and has been so engaged in such operation since 1960."

"It is, therefore, the logical recipient of the properties of which Bi-State should divest itself."

"The overriding consideration in this matter should be the best service of the public interest."

"During discussions between Bi-State and the Port, there has never been an occasion or an instance in which any doubt has been expressed by the Bi-State staff or its commissioners that the Tri-City Regional Port District operation of the wharf and terminal facilities would not be conducted in the best interest of the public."

"Therefore, the transfer would not do a disservice to the public interest."

"We suggest that the express desire of Bi-State to become a port coordinator and implementer will be advanced by its ceasing to be a port operator and potential competitor with individual port districts and agencies with which it seeks to accomplish the execution of memoranda of agreement."

"Bi-State Chairman Brawley responded, 'I think this is a great stride forward.'"

Support for the sale also has been voiced by St. Louis Director of Streets William J. Wilson, who is the official in charge of that city's port operations.

In other business Friday, the Bi-State Agency board approved hiring five new professionals for the agency's staff to work with Baer and Controller James R. Kendrick.

The positions are to include a port engineer, a financial analyst to assist the controller, a public relations officer and an affirmative action officer. Baer said the expanded staff will begin to give Bi-State the capability to become "the real regional influence" as visualized as becoming when founded in 1949."

GCHS South, Belleville East tie for conference wrestling title

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
Southwestern Conference wrestling coaches last week agreed that even with Granite City High School South being favored to capture this year's conference tournament, its 19th such title in a row, it promised to be the closest meet in history. They were right.

GCHS South and Belleville East wrestled Saturday to a 75-75 deadlock at Edwardsville, earning both schools a share of first-place conference honors.

A South injury in a lower weight class, an undetected escape by South in an upper weight class bout, and the outcome of a third-place bout helped decide the meet.

The Warriors held a three-point edge, 60-57, over Belleville West, and a four-point margin over Belleville East going into the championship bouts.

East's Whit Dickerson moved the Lancers within one point of South with a victory over his 98-pound foe and West's Tom Janick helped East's cause when he won on a forfeit from South's Woody Halbrook, who had struck his head on the gymnasium floor and was injured. Halbrook suffered his first loss of the 1974-75 season in the 105-pound bout.

South swept to victory in the following three weight classes but East kept within striking distance with a series of third-place finishes.

East, trailing South 72-69 going into the heavier weight class competition, became engaged in a battle of the unbeaten in 155-pound competition when Warrior Brian Wilson (26-0) and Lancer Bob Baldwin (22-0) took to the mat.

Ahead 3-2 on points, Wilson rolled through a Baldwin headlock, but for some reason was not observed by the officiating referee and Wilson got no additional points. Baldwin was awarded two points for securing the hold, giving the East matman a 4-3 decision and his team a 72-71 tie with South. The Lancers moved ahead of the Warriors 75-72 with a win in a third-place bout in the next weight class, placing the burden of a Warrior win, tie or loss on the abilities of 185-pound matman Jerry Patterson.

"It felt like the whole world was sitting on my back," recalls Patterson, "I was in the same situation last month in a regular season dual meet with Belleville West."

The West Maroons last month handed South its first regular season tie, 21-21, since 1956.

"I knew I had to win," said Patterson, "but as I stepped onto the mat, those much-needed points might as well have been a thousand; the pressure was that great."

Patterson and Edwardsville's Duane Unangst matched points, 2-2 and 4-4, until a near pin by Patterson gave the Warrior athlete a 6-4 decision over his foe.

With South and East in a 75-75 deadlock, the Warriors were still in danger of losing their first conference tournament in 19 years if the Lancers successfully captured a heavyweight class third-place match between Lancer Roger Cook and Alton's Robert Gillson.

Gillson ended the suspense which prevailed throughout the gym when he defeated Cook, 8-4.

Finishing behind South and East were Belleville West with 64 points, Cahokia 40, Edwardsville 29, Collinsville 24, East St. Louis 23½ and Alton, five.

South had five individual weight class champions: Steve Garland at 112; Kevin Page at 119; Jim Carmody at 126; Don Hasty at 138; and Patterson at 185.

East emerged with only two individual champions: Ed Penner at 145 and Baldwin at 155.

Warrior results in the meet were: 98 pounds — Lindy McDaniels lost 3-1; 105 Halbrook a bye, won 4-3 and lost by forfeit.

112 — Garland a bye, won 11-2 and won 8-1; 119 — Page a bye, won 4-0 and won 17-10; 126 — Carmody won 5-3, won 17-4 and won 6-1.

132 — Glen Moore lost 16-10; 138 — Hasty won 13-1, won by pin in 3:42 and won 13-7; 145 — Brian Gaines lost 4-0.

155 — Wilson won 9-5, won by pin 3:43 and lost 4-3; 167 — Kevin Wilson lost 5-2; 185 — Patterson won 3-0, won 5-2 and won 6-4; heavyweight — Mark Naglich lost 6-4.

INTENSE PRESSURE developed during the 1975 Southwestern Conference mat tourney. GCHS South's Jerry Patterson is shown as he awaited his turn at Edwardsville Saturday to compete in the 185-pound title bout, knowing that he must win his match with Edwardsville's Duane Unangst to assure the Warriors of a chance for a share of the Southwestern Conference tournament crown. Patterson defeated his foe 6-4, and GCHS South gained a 75-75 deadlock with Belleville East.

Madison Junior High Spartans win tourney

Madison Junior High School cagers defeated Edwardsville 52-30 Thursday at Collinsville to capture the 1974-75 Junior High School Basketball Conference tournament title.

The win concluded Madison's 1974-75 cage season with a 16-1 record.

Madison's Spartans, who clinched the conference championship prior to the tournament, defeated North of Collinsville last week 58-25 and then beat Roxana 53-34 to advance to meet the defending tournament champions.

Spartan James Heard, who scored 17 points against Collinsville North and 15 against Roxana, put 15 points on the scoreboard in the title contest.

Frank Eckhardt of Madison earned scoring honors for the game with 17.

Grigsby Junior High placed fourth in the tournament, bowing Thursday, 32-31, to Roxana in a third-place contest.

David Price had 13 points and Dennis Page 10 for Grigsby.

The Grigsby Gators last week defeated Webster of Collinsville 31-30 in first-round action and lost 39-22 to Edwardsville in a semifinal contest.

COOKIES ARE STOLEN
About $75 worth of cookies were stolen from a Schultz & Burch Biscuit Co. truck at the warehouse lot, 24th and Center streets, it was reported at 8:30 a.m. Saturday. A lock was broken from a truck door.

TOURNEY CHAMPIONSHIP VICTORY in the 119-pound title bout of the Southwestern Conference wrestling tournament Saturday. The win was posted by Warrior Kevin Page, the wrestler in the back. Page defeated Belleville East's Herb Jagels (foreground) 17-10 in overtime, preserving Page's undefeated season record at 27-0-1. East and GCHS South shared first-place honors in the meet with a 75-75 tie.

Cougars lose; win tonight could improve tourney hopes

Perhaps it was the dazzling new Hulman Center floor and the yelling large crowd at Terre Haute, Ind., which somewhat overpowered the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball players Saturday night as the Indiana State University Sycamores built a seven-point first-half lead and went on to edge the Cougars, 63-58.

The loss dropped the Cougars' record to 15-3 and broke their winning streak at seven — the second time SIUE winning skins have been broken at that figure. Indiana State, an NCAA Division I school, is now 11-10.

Tonight, the Cougars of Coach Jim Dudley will get back to work as they play host to the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle Chikas in an 8 o'clock game at the Edwardsville High gym.

Despite the fact that Dudley's Dawdies defeated Circle 92-83 in their third game of the season at the Windy City, they aren't about to let themselves be overconfident.

First, the Cougars need every victory they can tote up because the NCAA Division II Great Lakes regional tournament selection committee had SIUE under consideration for a post-season tourney bid. Secondly, the Chikas have improved since the mid-term and are now 8-11 for the season.

The Cougars threw a scare into the crowd as they battled back to within two points, 53-55, of Indiana State with less than three minutes to go.

Keith McFarland, who led Cougar scorers for the game with 19, cut the Sycamores' lead to 55-51 with a driving layup and on the same play John Strubberg was fouled.

Venice basketball players chalk up 19th straight win

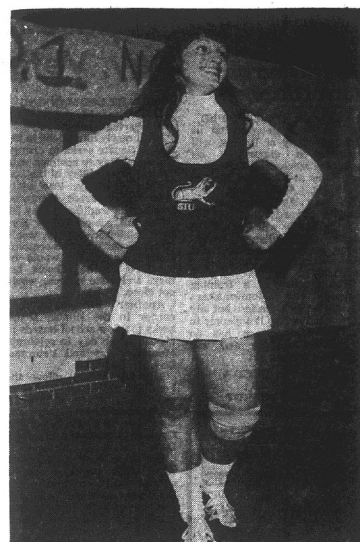

Venice High School, only five basketball games away from the start of regional competition, rolled to its 19th consecutive victory of the 1974-75 season at home Friday, defeating East St. Louis Lincoln 72-56.

The Red Devils now have a 19-1 season record.

They trailed Lincoln 17-16 and then led the visitors 24-28 and 54-40 at the quarters. Venice outscored Lincoln 18-16 in the final period.

"We got off to a slow start," recalled a Venice spokesman, "but in the second and third periods we began hustling and penetrating Lincoln's defense."

An East St. Louis representative felt Lincoln might have upset the second-

Long field goals help Maroons top North team 63-53

Granite City High School North cagers slipped to a 13-9 season record Saturday at Belleville when the host Maroons of Belleville West garnered a 63-53 decision over the Steelers.

"We were concentrating on holding down the scoring power of Rusty Lisch," said a North spokesman.

"It worked, too. We allowed him only 11 points, but Milton Wiley got away from us and was hitting 22-foot shots."

Wiley tallied 10 field goals and five free throws to lead his team to victory.

The Maroons led 18-9, 30-25 and 46-39 at the quarters, and outscored North 17-14 in the final period.

"We got off to a slow start," the spokesman related, "and could only hit four of 13 attempts from the field in the first quarter."

Overall, the Steelers made good 24 of 63 field goal attempts and five of 12 charity tosses. West was 26 of 62 from the field and 11 of 17 from the foul line.

West had the fewest fouls, 11-16, and least turnovers, 10-15. The Maroons also recovered the most rebounds, 31-25.

On Friday, the South Warriors failed to contain the scoring of West's Rusty Lisch and Milton Wiley and the Maroons led 21-12, 51-28 and 72-35 at the quarters.

West outscored South 19-18 in the final period. Lisch had 24 points in the game and Wiley 22.

Steelerettes ose in state bowling

The Steelerette bowling team of Granite City High School North bowed out of competition

Friday in the Illinois High School Association girls' state championship bowling tournament at Peoria.

North, champion of the Vandavia district meet, failed to be among the 16 highest scoring first-round teams which advanced to second-round action.

The Steelerettes knocked over a total of 2,022 pins (three games by each of five bowlers).

"I feel we had a successful season overall," commented Coach Terry Papa. "We learned a lot, and next year the girls should be more competitive."

At Peoria, Debbie Windfield captured high-game honors, rolling a 191. Jan Whitworth bowled a 153 and Kathy Shemwell a 152.

Propose to change Memorial Day, Veterans' Day in state

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record

A bill newly introduced in the Illinois Senate seeks to change Memorial Day to conform with the national holiday of the last Monday in May. The state presently observes Memorial Day on the traditional May 30.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Jack Schaeffer, R-Cary, would give May 30 "commemorative" status, meaning it would be observed in the schools but they, and state officials, would not close.

Another bill introduced earlier in the Illinois House seeks to allow school boards to choose which day to celebrate Memorial Day and Veterans' Day.

The bill would allow the boards to choose either May 30 or the last Monday in May to observe Memorial Day and Nov. 11 or the fourth Monday in October to celebrate Veterans' Day.

Confusion arose last year when state employees, public school children and some businesses observed the May 30 and Nov. 11 dates while federal employees and some merchants took off the other dates.

The conflict often resulted in children being home one day and their parents, the other.

Rep. R. E. "Bob" Brink-

meier, D-Freeport and sponsor of the bill, said he believes school boards should have this flexibility in order to adapt school schedules to local situations and opinions.

Another conflict in holiday scheduling occurs this month when Illinois observes the birthday of Abraham Lincoln on Wednesday, Feb. 12, while some other states celebrate the second Monday in February. It is not a federal holiday.

Other than Memorial Day, Veterans' Day and Lincoln's birthday, Illinois adheres to the federal schedule.

The remaining 1975 state holidays include: Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's birthday, the third Monday in February (Feb. 17); Memorial Day May 30; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September (Sept. 1); Columbus Day, second Monday in October (Oct. 13); Veterans' Day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November (Nov. 27); and Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

For those who like to look ahead, there's New Year's Day, Jan. 1, 1976, followed by Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday, Jan. 15, 1976.

Howlett advisory group on privacy

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has just established an Advisory Committee on Privacy to assist him in protecting the rights and privacy of individuals.

By statute, the secretary of state's office is responsible for collecting and retaining considerable information pertaining to individuals in Illinois. Howlett notes in most areas, the secretary has discretionary power over the dissemination of this information.

"When I was Illinois auditor of public accounts, the statehouse correspondents gave me a goldfish Bowl Award for running an open office. The office of secretary of state today is just as open," Howlett said. "We will continue to make sure that the public and news media have right of access to information."

However, we also realize that the right to privacy of an individual must be given full consideration. This advisory group has been asked to study and make suggestions to protect this privacy while fulfilling the responsibilities of my office," he added.

Members of the Privacy Advisory Committee include: Prof. John Nowak, College of Law, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Louis A. Lerner, publisher of Lerner Newspapers, Chicago. James P. Connelly, president of the Chicago Bar Association. James E. Spivey, an attorney with Chapman and Cutler, Chicago.

Frederick Allen, an attorney, Peoria.

Lee W. Ensel, an attorney with Ensel, Jones, Blanchard and La Barre, Springfield.

And Norman Ross Otter, an executive assistant to the director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, Secretary of State's office, Springfield.

W. Pontoon RR gates stuck nearly 2 hours

Granite City police were notified at 10:50 a.m. Thursday that the gates at the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing were stuck in the down position and were blocking traffic. Officers immediately notified railroad officials.

Police received numerous complaints and notified railroad officials again at 10:50 a.m., 11:25 a.m. and at 12:05 p.m. Thursday. The gates finally were repaired at 12:20 p.m.

Malfunctions of the gates at that crossing have been the topic of numerous complaints and of a petition bearing 717 signatures which was presented to the Granite City Council in an effort to obtain increased safety measures there.

The crossing was the scene of a fatal accident Dec. 28, the second within 14 months.

It is alleged that long waits at lowered railroad gates caused by malfunctions, switching operations and changes of train crews are an inducement to motorists to go around the lowered gates.

Clerks beaten at Quick Stop

Two women clerks at the E & L Quick Stop, 5527 Maryville Road, were injured when they were assaulted by a customer in the store Thursday at 8:40 p.m. Mrs. Joann Bray, 26, and Mrs. Beatrice Dunham, 33, said they were working when a man entered wearing a blue parka and hood and blue denim pants and purchased some gum. They said the man asked if he could wait inside the store where it was warm. Before either woman could answer his question, he struck Mrs. Bray on her head with what may have been a club or blackjack and then began to beat Mrs. Dunham, Madison County sheriff's deputies were told.

Both women said they fought back and the man ran from the store. The women were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Mrs. Dunham was admitted with a contusion to her head, hematoma to the top of her head and an abrasion to the top of her head and an abrasion to her left knee. X-rays were taken.

Mrs. Bray was treated for a two inch cut to the back of her head, which required sutures, and she was released after X-rays were taken.

ILLINOIS' OUTDOOR HERITAGE

TREE-OF-HEAVEN (Ailanthus altissima)

Grown primarily as an ornamental tree in urban areas because of its ability to withstand smoke and smog, the tree-of-heaven ranges up to 75 feet in height. This species can thrive on a minimum amount of soil, and its large compound leaves give it a palm-like appearance. The leaves have up to 41 leaflets and yellow-green flowers in upright clusters, making this a readily recognizable species. When crushed, the leaflets emit an unpleasant scent. A native of Asia, this tree was introduced to North America and has readily spread throughout the country. It is found in most Illinois cities. Once established it is extremely difficult to cut out because of its ability to sprout. It is generally located in disturbed woods and urban areas. There is no established state record for this species.

BRING YOUR TACKLE. The Mississippi River and its potential for future fish fries lies waiting just at the end of Delabar State Park in Henderson County.

Fishing on the river is a popular attraction of the small park, with many of the hopeful anglers using this access area.

Madison ok's fund request

An application to the Illinois Capital Development Board for aid in construction of a new junior high school facility at Madison was approved by the Madison School Board in a special meeting Thursday night.

John Paicheff, superintendent of the schools, told board members that action by the state board is not expected for several weeks.

The board also authorized Madison school principals to attend a teacher evaluation workshop in St. Louis on March 8 and authorized Blair School to hold a "Black Awareness" program Thursday at 8 p.m.

The board also authorized Dunbar School to conduct a black history program at 1 p.m. Thursday.

A general discussion with school administrators concerned ways of improving supervision of persons attending athletic events.

The regular meeting of the board will be held Thursday 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 20 at the board office 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

Haug promoted

Charles Haug Jr., a Granite City native, has been named general merchandising manager of a new 218,000 square-foot J. C. Penney department store in Indianapolis. The store will open in April.

He is the son of Mrs. Charles Haug Sr., 2415 Logan Ave., Granite City.

Haug began his Penney career in 1966 at Decatur, and was promoted to department manager two years later at Gary, Ind. In 1970, he was promoted again as a department manager at Hammond, Ind., and was named sales and merchandise manager in 1972.

QUAWKA — There may be some uncertainty about how this region in Henderson County got its present name, going from the simple Yellow Banks, but there's no mystery about how Delabar State Park got its designation.

In 1929 two brothers, Roy and Jack Delabar, gave the state of Illinois 80 acres for development of a park. Voilà! Delabar State Park.

The park, still just a little over 80 acres in size, is located about a mile and a half north of Quawka, off Rt. 164 in Henderson County.

The park is located along the Mississippi River, which in this vicinity is bordered by a high sandy bank which is thought to have inspired the Indians who formerly lived here to name the region Yellow Banks.

Because it borders the river, the park's recreation potential is great, despite its small size.

Trees are the obvious natural feature at Delabar State Park, with many big oaks and some birch and hickory. The plentiful trees and the shade they cast limits production of flowers and low-growing shrubs in the park, but squirrels, rabbits, raccoons, deer, groundhogs and quail all find

Physical fitness Optimist program

The importance of keeping fit was related to the Granite City Optimist Club at its Thursday noon meeting at the YMCA, by Michael Tharp, program director for the 'Y'.

Tharp emphasized the need of a physical examination regularly and a program of exercise and diet.

He said that one of every two deaths nationally is caused by some type of blood vessel problem.

Tharp noted that after a person has seen his physician, the YMCA staff will help develop a personal exercise program.

Optimist President Frank McGinness reminded club members of the Opti-Mrs. party Wednesday, Feb. 19, at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville.

McGinness said reservations are to be made before Thursday. Members are to call Mrs. Elmer Branding at 876-1645 or Mrs. Carl Roach at 877-1843.

Optimist David Fox, introduced Larry Gipe, vice-president and trust officer of the First Granite City National Bank, who was his guest at the meeting.

In observance of February as National Boy Scout month, William Monical, scout executive for the Cahokia Mound Scout Council, will speak to the club Thursday.

the heavy tree growth provides fine natural habitat. Over 50 different species of birds have been identified there.

Only a short distance from Delabar State Park is Henderson County Conservation Area, which includes Gladstone Lake, a 27-acre lake with a mile and a half of shoreline, with a maximum depth of 25 feet. At the conservation area lake, a variety of fish have been stocked, and there are picnic areas, camping facilities, and a launching ramp for boat fishing.

At Delabar State Park, there are three picnic areas available, strategically located so one is in the center, near the parking area, and the others are located at the north and south ends of the park. Drinking water and toilets are available.

Hikers will find two trails which wind through the woods for nearly two miles.

For campers, there are areas for both tents and trailers, with electricity, a sanitary station and a jet pump. Hand pumps are available as well in the campgrounds. All campers must have a permit from the park ranger before setting up, and there are special facilities for group camping, but groups of more than 25 must have advance permission to enter the park.

From Delabar, fishing on the river is easy and popular. Any size boat motor is permitted, and there is a launching ramp at the river, as well as two boat docks. Though there is no boat rental at the park, there is a marina close by.

During the warm months, a concession stand, with snack bar, is operated near the registration booth. A playground lies just west of the campgrounds, and there is a shelter house in the park.

During the winter, ice fishing and ice skating are popular, when the river ice reaches a safe thickness.

Not far away from Delabar

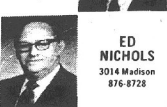

State Park, a few miles north, is the Conservation Department's Big River State Forest, a 2,671-acre tract which is presently being used as a demonstration project to show the feasibility of producing profitable timber stands through conversion to pine forests.

As in all state conservation facilities, groups of minors are required to have one responsible adult for each 15 minors in the group. Pets are permitted, but must be kept leashed.

Fewer births, more deaths in January

The number of births declined in the Quad-City area and the number of deaths increased, both by slight margins, during January, according to a vital statistics report issued by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

A total of 80 births occurred in the area last month, down 12 from the 92 reported in January 1974, the report said. There was one fetal death compared to none during the same month of the previous year.

The report showed a total of 45 deaths last month, an increase of two over the 42 occurring in the Quad-Cities in January 1974.

CAR IS STOLEN

The 1969 orange two-door Chevrolet of Melvin Stroud, 4099 Gaslight Walk, Apt. 1, was stolen from a parking lot at Madison Avenue and Nameki Road, it was reported at 3:40 a.m. Saturday. The car has hood screws and large rear tires mounted on magnesium wheels.

14 firms to supply schools

Fourteen firms were selected by the Granite City Board of Education last week to supply educational supplies to the district, including pens, folders, blackboard supplies, staplers, thumb tacks, scissors, flags and other items, costing a total of $7,489.

Firms to which contracts were awarded and the total of the award to each were: Ideal, Inc., $1,604; Interstate School Specialty Co., $1,529; Buschart Brothers, $1,330; J. S. Latta, $330; Bradburn School Supply, $346; Bye-Mo's, $331; Beckley Cardy, $138; Standard Stationery, $106; Commercial Office Products, $248; H. Lieber, $233; Colonial Flag, $558; Stafford Reeves, $230; Ruwe Pencil, $164, and Modern Paper, $466.

The board also selected Black & Co., Springfield, Ill., to supply 150 Rawlings football helmets meeting new specifications for high school players for a total of $3,559.

Helmets for junior high school players are to be purchased at a later time as prices obtained were not satisfactory, according to Victor G. Anderson, comptroller. Anderson said funds for the high school helmets will be taken from the 1974-75 athletic budget.

Atlas Seed was the lowest of three bidders to supply 1,200 pounds of grass seed and 1,200 pounds of fertilizer to the district for lawn and field maintenance this spring.

The board approved the purchase from Atlas of grass seed for $360 and of fertilizer for $114, a total of $474.

Federal Steel Co., East Alton, was selected to supply three "I" beams and four lengths of six feet, 10-inch pipe, costing $297. Federal was chosen on the basis of a fair market price and immediate availability of the material.

Laclede Steel Co. was chosen to supply six rolls of mesh and 28 pieces of reinforcing bars at a total price of $380.

The "I" beams, pipe, mesh and reinforcing bars are to be used for construction of a new house by students in the building trades program.

Expenditure of $400 to have 32 small vents installed in the roof of the Granite City High School North cafeteria by Biebel Roofing Co. to remove moisture under the roofing was approved by the board.

Heubner noted the Biebel firm had completed repairs worth $2,546 to the roof earlier, at no cost to the school district, even though the roof was out of warranty.

He said on the basis of the past work and the reasonable price quoted, he did not feel the job needed to be let out for bidding.

Three emergency repair bills in excess of $150 were approved by the board for payment. One was for $280 for repair of a refrigerator at GCHS South which needed a new compressor.

A bill from Richey & Sons Service Co. for $230 was approved for purchase of a new motor for the Mitchell School sewage treatment plant.

The third was a bill for $163 from Custer Brothers Heating Co. for repair on the furnace burners and rebuilding a compressor in January when the school had to be closed for one day during furnace repairs. The board accepted gifts from three sources. First Granite City National Bank donated each school a three-volume set of the Life of Abraham Lincoln, written by Carl Sandburg.

Also accepted were three cassette recorders, and two record players from the Marshall School Parent-Teacher Association for use at that school and a combination public address system and record player from the Maryville PTA for use at that school.

The board agreed to purchase two radios for monitoring weather alerts for Mitchell School and the Title One Pre-School Center. The units cost $170 each and are available from Wise Communications Co., East St. Louis.

All schools in the district now will have such units. Bills ordered paid included $52,908 from the educational fund, $35,407, including the final payments on GCHS North construction from the new construction fund, $270 from the joint agreement fund, $6,067 from the transportation fund and $1,275 from federal funds.

Tuition reimbursements totaling $2,300 to students in higher education programs out of the local junior college district also were ordered paid.

Reilly Tar, drivers honored

Reilly Tar & Chemical Corp. of Granite City and four of its drivers have been presented with traffic safety awards by the Missouri District office of Ryder Truck Rentals, Inc.

The awards were presented in a ceremony at the plant in which certificates were given to Earl Glasper, Walter Douglas, Charles McComb and Ezell Mallett, and to the company.

Microwave system for railway communications

Construction of a microwave radio system along the Norfolk and Western Railway's 14-mile service area is scheduled to begin within 90 days, Robert B. Clayton, NW's executive vice president, said last week.

Costing in excess of $11 million, the microwave system is part of a $13.5 million communication modernization program which began in 1973.

Designed to accommodate the rail carrier's communications as far ahead as 1985, the 2,000-mile microwave system will become operational by the end of the year between corporate headquarters at Roanoke, Va., and regional offices in Cleveland, O. This will be followed by extensions to the St. Louis area, Chicago, Buffalo, Kansas City, Pittsburgh and Norfolk, Va.

When completed in 1976, the network will provide a closer link between operating personnel and the company's expanding computer system. "We are convinced that in this age of computers, adequate and reliable communications are an absolute necessity," Clayton said. "When completed, our new communications system will be among the best in the railroad industry."

"In addition to achieving economies, it will help us serve our shippers better by speeding the interchange of needed information."

In anticipation of the new microwave system, the railroad has been upgrading its communications network for the last two years. This has included modernizing several telephone switching centers and improving the VHF radio system to provide more reliable communications between headquarters and train crews and other personnel along the right-of-way.

A total of 91 microwave stations will be built by Collins Radio Group of Rockwell International, Inc., Dallas. A contract for this work was signed at Roanoke Feb. 3.

Byrd, S. Grier to expedite the work and minimize costs, the NW will share several sites and radio channels with the Chesapeake System (Chesapeake) and the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad.

SIUE Night office hours

For the convenience of students taking night classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, several offices on campus are remaining open later on some evenings. In the past, most offices have normally been open only from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The bursar's office will be open on Wednesdays until 9 p.m.

According to Ken Hacker, bursar, all normal daytime services will be available. Students will be able to obtain identification badges, make fee payments and register vehicles.

Lovely Library will remain open until 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday of each week to accommodate night students. According to John Abbott, director, the additional hour of operation will give students a chance to get books after classes, which are usually over by 10 p.m.

The Admissions and Records office will remain open until 9 p.m. on Wednesdays only. Robert Bruker, director, said students will be able to obtain admission applications, schedule information and copies of transcripts. University Placement Services will be open on Wednesdays and Thursdays until 7 p.m. Students can obtain counseling or employment information, according to David Van Horn.

No deficiency crop payments

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has announced there will be no deficiency payment made for 1974 crop wheat and barley.

As provided by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, deficiency payments shall be made to producers when the national weighted average price received by farmers for the first five months of the marketing year — July-September for wheat and barley — is less than the established "target" prices for these crops.

The national weighted average price received by producers for the first five months of the 1974 marketing year was $4.31 per bushel for wheat and $2.66 per bushel for barley. Since this is in excess of the target prices of $2.05 for wheat and $1.13 for barley, there will be no deficiency payments.

Although the deficiency payment determination for barley is made after the first five months of the marketing year, any barley payments which might be due in subsequent years will not be issued until after March 1, when the determination is made for corn and grain sorghum.

Mock trial a learning aid

The Third Judicial Circuit Court convened in the gymnasium at the Civic Memorial High School in Bethalto, last week.

The students were presented with a first-hand look at the proceedings in a criminal case in a mock trial presentation.

The entire junior class witnessed the case of The People vs. Davis. Presiding over the trial was Associate Circuit Judge Thomas H. Gibbons; the prosecutor was Assistant State's Attorney Joe Brown; the defendants were represented by Joseph Webb, court administrator.

After the opening statements, the state called its witnesses: Edwin Plegge, mayor of Bethalto; Lewis Dreith, Bethalto chief of police, and Ann Bagley, a court reporter.

The defense witnesses were: Larry Bull from the Madison County Sheriff's Department, and Civic Memorial students, Mary Condray and Sam Wallace.

The students were presented with actual testimony and cross-examination techniques used in trial and after the closing arguments by both sides, the jury of 12 students returned a verdict finding the defendants guilty of resisting arrest, and innocent of disorderly conduct.

The case involved the issue of whether or not a group of anti-war demonstrators were justified in refusing to obey police authority, and whether or not their actions amounted to disorderly conduct. Roland Daniel of Civic Memorial High School and the court administrator coordinated the program.

Teachers or school personnel interested in a similar presentation may contact the Court Administrator's Office at 1-692-4300, Webb explained.

Susan Krawiecki becomes Mrs. Kenneth W. Mueller

Miss Susan Krawiecki and Kenneth W. Mueller were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in a ceremony conducted at St. Mary Roman Catholic Church in Madison. Large bouquets of mums, blue tipped carnations and greenery, interspersed with baby's breath, decorated the altar. Burning white tapers in hurricane lamps, festooned with green and white foliage, illuminated the sanctuary for the 2 o'clock service. The Rev. Conrad Motola officiated. The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krawiecki. She has resided with her aunt, Mrs. Cecelia Kowalczyk, 1713 Edwardsville Road, Madison. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Eckert Mueller, 10 Riviera Drive. Mrs. Margaret MacZura sang "The Wedding Song," "Ave Maria," "The Sabbath Prayer," "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by James Havarnek. The former Miss Krawiecki was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her godfather, Florian Kowalczyk. She chose a white organza gown fashioned in an Empire silhouette. The high neckline was edged in Venice lace and the long shepherdess sleeves capped in matching lace were gathered at the wrists into a lace ruffle. Alternate bands of lace accented the bodice and encircled the high rise waistline. A deep flounce, defined with a wide band of lace bordered the hemline of the semi-full skirt and extended into a full sweep train. She wore a camelot headpiece of pearls to secure her fingertip veil trimmed with Venice lace. She carried a cascade of pink roses, white carnations, baby's breath and greenery, tied with a pink velvet ribbon. Maid of honor Miss Rosemary Krawiecki, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Jo Ann Labory and Miss Mary Ann Krawiecki, also her sisters, Miss Janice Mueller, the groom's cousin, and Miss Theresa Saksa chose identical gowns. Their dresses had Empire bodices in royal blue velvet with pale blue Venice lace tracing the square necklines and long sheer sleeves. The formal length skirts of chiffon were enhanced with ruffled flounces and each attendant wore a pale blue picture hat. Cascades of blue tipped carnations, baby's breath and greenery, tied with royal blue velvet ribbons, were carried by the maids. The honor attendant's bouquet was centered with a cluster of pink roses. Karla Jean Mueller, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She held a white wicker basket filled with pink and blue blossoms. Dennis Lee Labory Jr., the bride's nephew, served as the ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, Don Mueller, as best man. Dave Mueller, another brother, Charles Mueller, the groom's cousin, Danny Sipes and Robert Kowalczyk, the bride's cousin, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Dennis Lee Labory, the bride's brother-in-law, and Robert Mueller, a cousin of the groom. Mrs. Kowalczyk, the bride's aunt, selected a formal length dress of pastel blue chiffon made with long sleeves, a V-neckline and a full skirt. The groom's mother, Mrs. Mueller, was attired in a floor length blue gown complemented with a long sleeve jacket and matching accessories. Both wore orchid corsages. Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception at Polish Hall in Madison. Both are graduates of Madison High School. They will reside in Madison following a wedding trip to Wisconsin.

Venice housing code placed on first reading

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
After a four and one-half hour line by line review by the Venice City Council Saturday afternoon, an ordinance establishing minimum housing standards was placed on first reading for final adoption at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 18.
The ordinance, when passed, also will provide for occupancy permits for dwellings.
The council has been studying for the past two months similar ordinances passed by other cities, including Madison, as a basis for its own housing code.
Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold said the intent and purpose of the housing code is to protect the public health, safety, comfort and general welfare of all the people in the city.
"If this ordinance is enforced we will solve a lot of our problems. We have a lot of absentee landowners who don't give two hoots about fixing up their property, and this is one step in correcting a lot of our problems."
"We will need to hire a man to enforce this ordinance, because this is a full time job," Alderman Tyrone Echols pointed out.
"We have a couple of landowners here today; but these are the good ones, they keep up the property and maintain good relations with the tenants," Echols commented.

"We have a lot of landlords who live across the river that really are taking advantage of our people and we as a council need to protect them," Mayor Ebersold said.
Part of the ordinance dealing with space and occupancy requirements was stricken from the proposed ordinance after much discussion by the council as not being practical and realistic in the City of Venice.
Both are in competition today at Chicago, where the regional semi-finals started at 10 a.m. and will continue through early evening.

In her performance Friday, Miss Hightower chose to sing "Mein Herr Marquis" from "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss and at the judges' request sang in Italian Donizetti's "Ciascun lo dice" from "The Daughter of the Regiment."
First place winner in the Southern Illinois Area auditions was Jo Ann Winona Hawkins of Chicago, an SIU student at St. Louis.
Billingsley of Edwardsville, a student at SIUE, earned second place honors.

Demo chairman

Hagnauer told the Press-Record, "I have some big footsteps to follow."
"Buck did a good job for the party and for the country. I am going to have to fill some big shoes."
Hagnauer said he sees no advantage or disadvantage in having the Democratic party chairman and the chairman of the Madison County Board in one person.
"I do believe it is helpful to keep the party chairmanship in the Quad-Cities, where the majority of the Democratic votes are," he added.
Simmons learned of the court ruling last week, and at that time said he would have to resign the Democratic party post because the county chairmanship is a non-paying job "and I have to work for a living."

The executive board members voted to buy Simmons a new car as an "appreciation gift" with the understanding that Simmons' present car—an Oldsmobile—will be traded in.
"We decided to buy him the same kind of car he is now driving, but if the price differential is not too great, it is possible we could get him a Cadillac," Sam Wolf, secretary-treasurer of the county committee, said.
The vote in yesterday's meeting was taken on the basis of popular vote in Madison County Townships, divided into 12 Democratic committee districts.
Representatives of each district were permitted to cast the full vote of their respective districts.
Hagnauer, 46, of 2708 Saratoga Ave., was re-elected a year ago as Granite City Township supervisor, a post he has held since 1961.
He won re-election in November to the Madison County Board.
Prior to his first election as supervisor, he served six years as assistant supervisor.
During the 20 years beginning in 1955, he has served on the old Madison County Board of Supervisors and the current Madison County Board.
Hagnauer is on leave of absence as a tankerman for the Phillips Pipe Line Co.
He is a native and lifelong resident of Granite City, where he attended Sacred Heart School and Granite City High School.

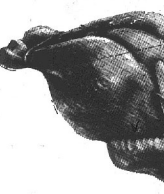

he also is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300, the American Legion, the Amvets and the Eagles.
He belongs to the Illinois Welfare Association, Illinois Association of County Officials and Illinois Association of Supervisors.
He and his wife, Bernadine, have a daughter, Carol Sue, and a son, Nelson.
He has been chairman of the County Board since it was created as a 28-member board on May 1, 1972.
He was chairman of the former 49-member County Board of Supervisors, and it was the final year of its existence, following the death of Chairman Harold J. Landolt.
Hagnauer was elected Nov. 8, 1973, as vice-chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, which coordinates federally-funded projects in the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan region of St. Louis.

Chairman Nicholas P. Veeder of Granite City Steel, who has been associated with the local plant for 41 years, will campaign as St. Louis United Way campaign chairman in 1975.
U.S. District Attorney James R. Thompson said Saturday in Chicago he has recommended the immediate release from federal prison of former Gov. Otto Kerner and former State Revenue Director Theodore J. Isaacs. He had led their prosecution in a horse race track bribery case, and they have been imprisoned about seven months. Thompson said, "Conditions which had warranted imprisonment have now been satisfied" and there is "no reason to seek further punishment."
The St. Louis Board of Trustees will meet at 11 a.m. Thursday at Carbondale.

Presidential Jack Scoville is advising those owed funds by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District that it is in a "financial bind for at least 30 days" due to $900,000 emergency work on disaster-related projects. Bills will be paid as soon as funds are available he said, adding that "the work done was necessary to protect all citizens, industries and schools from flooding."

Ernest D. Smith Sr., 52, of Lot 121 Sunny Shores, died at 4:45 a.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital where he had been in a patient one week. He had been ill five years.
Mr. Smith was employed 22 years as a painter through Local 471 of Alton.
He was born in Carmi, Ill., and had lived in this area 50 years.
Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Smith; four sons, Harold Edward Smith and David Lee Smith, both of Granite City, Army Private Class First Class Daniel Eugene Smith stationed with the Marine Corps in Hawaii; his mother, Mrs. Mary Margaret Smith of Taylorville.
Five brothers, Harold Smith, Ford Smith, Clayton and Gilbert Smith, both of Taylorville; Victor Smith, Morrisville, Ill., and Len Smith of Dallas, Tex.; seven sisters, Mrs. Gilbert (Reba) Best, Troy, Ill.; Mrs. Aggie (Louise) Mroczek of Parson, Ill.; Mrs. Paul (Mary) Kelley, Wood River; Mrs. Glen (Helen) Bartling, Mrs. Jim (Joyce) Lukka, both of Taylorville; Mrs. Gene (Betty) Niekles, Coffey, Ill.; Mrs. Herb (Rose Ann) Mefford, Quincy, Ill., and one grandchild.
Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

McDonnell workers strike

At total of 12,000 production workers went on strike today at McDonnell Douglas Corp.'s St. Louis County plant after company officials and negotiators from Machinists Union District 837 failed to reach agreement Friday in the current contract dispute.

Gus Troia, District 837 president and business manager, said about 12,000 workers from Machinists Union District 720 at McDonnell's six West Coast plants have agreed to join the walkout. Troia said Union officials representing more than 12,000 auto workers at McDonnell facilities in California, Arkansas and Oklahoma also have promised not to cross the picket lines, Troia said.

Production workers at the St. Louis plant and other employees who probably will honor the picket lines have a weekly payroll exceeding $2 million, loss of which is expected to have an immediate effect on the area's economy. It is estimated that several hundred McDonnell employees live the Quad-City area.

Troia said last night the union's demands for a new contract, has scheduled a 10 a.m. meeting today and he challenged the company negotiators to attend. Federal mediators are trying to set up a new round of bargaining, it was learned, but no definite date has been established. Spokesmen for both the company and union said Saturday that they were willing to resume negotiations at any time.

For the time being, the 18,000 salaried engineers, supervisory and management personnel and office staff are scheduled to work as usual.

District 837 voted last week to strike if their demands for raises were not met. The machinists now earn an average of $5.82 per hour in wages, plus an additional $1.61 per hour in benefits.

On Friday, the company offered a salary increase of $1.25 over three years. The union bargaining committee rejected it. The company offer would increase the $5.82 per hour wage by $2 cents to $6.04 an hour in the third year. Cost-of-living increases would be added on top of this.

The company estimated that the cost-of-living increase would total another 96 cents an hour by the end of the third year. The contract, raising the total hourly wage to more than $7, Troia charged that medical and pension benefits were being cut back in the latest company offer.

375 see four receive high scouting honors

The Silver Beaver, highest award a local Boy Scout Council can present a volunteer, was presented to four leaders Saturday evening during the 25th annual recognition dinner, attended by 375 volunteer leaders and held in Edwardsville.

Receiving the award were Mrs. Phyllis Brusatti, 2211 Manley Ave., Ronald Luebben, 2138 Johnson Pkwy., Floyd Linenfelder, Highland, and Robert E. Schrader, Glen Carbon.

Mrs. Brusatti has been active in scouting for over 10 years. She has served as a den leader, den leader coach, scouters' reserve member and district training committee member. She is a member of the Cahokia Mount Council executive board.

Mrs. Brusatti, a teacher at Nameoki Grade School, is a past president of the Minerva Women's Club and is active in the United Way. She has served as a Girl Scout leader for seven years.

who is working on his Eagle badge requirements.

Luebben, a foreman at the Nestle Co., has been active in scouting since March 1960. He has served as a neighborhood and district commissioner and a roundtable commissioner.

He is currently a vice-chairman of the Unihav (Quad-City) District.

Luebben is a member of the St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church and the Knights of Columbus, in addition to the Granite City Crippled Children's Society.

He has been active in the United Way, Cancer Crusade and March of Dimes.

He has two sons who are Eagle scouts and one son who is a Star scout.

Schrader has been scoutmaster of Troop 34, sponsored by the Glen Carbon Kiwanis Club, since 1968. He received the scoutmaster award in November 1972 and scoutmaster key in November 1974.

Participation in the Edwardsville Glen Carbon United Way was reactivated largely due to his efforts, and he was instrumental, with the aid of the Kiwanis, in refurbishing athletic fields for youth activities in Glen Carbon.

While serving as scoutmaster, he assisted in the organization of an explorer post so that all ages in the Glen Carbon area might be served by the scouting program.

Linenfelder has been active in scouting since 1961 both as a local level in Highland and with the council. He received the district award of merit in 1967.

A member of St. Paul's Catholic Church, Linenfelder is active in the Knights of Columbus and other civic groups in Highland.

Donald Gnaedinger, a vice-president of the council for cub scouting presented meritorious service to cub scouting awards, citing work in developing the cub day camp program.

Reginald Mennerick and Charles Taylor, both of Granite City, were honored by Vance for their work in developing the 1974 high adventure trip to the Philmont Scout Ranch.

A meritorious service award for his work in the exploring program was presented to Dave Wilson of Granite City by W. F. "Mike" Strange, council vice-president for exploring.

Wilson serves both as an explorer advisor and also as vice-chairman of the council explorer committee in charge of the service section.

Explorer Post 104, sponsored by the Madison Police Department, received special honors for conducting a total explorer experience program including "super-activities."

The post was honored for not only having a "truly outstanding track record" but also because every member of the 45-member law enforcement post was given the opportunity to earn his own way through unit money-earning projects.

Richard Hooks, post advisor, accepted the award on behalf of the post.

"Training is important in all phases of our program," Strange commented, "but it is a little more important in exploring. During the past year, training opportunities have been offered that were never offered before on a district and council basis and also on a one-to-one basis for leaders of newly organized posts."

A certificate of merit was awarded by Strange to Tom Hooks of Venice, council explorer training chairman.

"Old timers" awards were presented by Jack Holsinger, council first vice-president, to four scouts who have been active in scouting for over 50 years.

Hospitals tell Congress of anti-inflation fight

In special meetings with Illinois congressmen last week, hospital representatives from across the state emphasized the efforts of hospitals to combat inflation, and the "damaging effect" of discriminatory economic controls "on the health industry."

The hospital delegation, comprised of chief executive officers, administrative staff members and hospital board members representing 30 Illinois institutions, was in the nation's capital to discuss with congressmen the problems hospitals are facing.

The Illinois Hospital Association, which represents nearly 300 hospitals across the state, sponsored the trip to Washington.

The delegates stressed the following major areas of concern:

(1) Inflation. High inflation, coming on the heels of wage-price controls, is putting hospitals in a tight financial position.

Preliminary analysis of information collected by IHA shows that the costs of hospital operations have increased more rapidly than the prices hospitals charge in the areas of medical supply costs, insurance costs and raw food costs.

Reasons for the slower rate in hospital service charges are increased efficiency, substitute materials, and close cost monitoring by management, it is asserted.

The hospital industry is unique in that it cannot change its product mix, drop unprofitable services, or curtail operations. It also is a labor intensive industry, with nearly 60 per cent of costs going toward salaries.

Hospitals must absorb operating losses, and the capital position of hospitals suffered under the economic stabilization program.

When controls were lifted from the health industry, which came months after suppliers of goods and services to hospitals were decontrolled, a "catch-up" bulge in hospital charges was necessary to keep pace with suppliers.

(2) National health insurance. "A national health insurance program should coordinate all key elements in the health care system - including the health delivery system, the financing mechanisms, and the regulatory and administrative mechanisms," the IHA asserts.

"The program should mandate a comprehensive benefits package which includes catastrophic health benefits."

"It should allow sufficient time between enactment of legislation and actual implementation of its provisions to ensure that adequate delivery system resources and regulatory structures will be in place."

"There should be a balanced regulatory mechanism coordinating the roles of both federal and state governments. NHI should be financed through a pluralistic system that uses a variety of sources."

(3) Public employee collective bargaining. With the enactment last August of the Taft-Hartley Amendment, 80 per cent of the hospitals in Illinois became subject to the National Labor Relations Act.

Since then, however, subsequently, much of discussion in Congress about collective bargaining proposals for all public employees.

IHA comments, "Congress should not overlook the fact that included in the public employee sector are nearly 20 per cent of the hospitals in the state. If Congress is to pass public employee collective bargaining legislation, IHA feels that employees in these hospitals must be considered in the same essential categories as police and firemen."

Headquartered in Chicago, the Illinois Hospital Association is a statewide, nonprofit, voluntary organization.

IHA represents its constituency in the state legislature and acts as spokesman for its members in their interactions with voluntary and governmental health agencies.

Mrs. Johnson dies at 76

Mrs. Martha Johnson, 76, of 313 Watson St., Eagle Park Acres, was found without signs of life in her home and was pronounced dead at the scene at 8:03 a.m. Sunday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Stephen Howe.

A son, Edward Johnson said he had gone to his mother's home at 7:20 a.m. Sunday and had been unable to receive an answer to his knocks at the door and on several windows.

He said he broke the rear door and entered to find Mrs. Johnson on the bathroom floor.

Others survivors include a daughter, Dorothy Carroll of Indiana, Mich.; one sister Willa Mae Moore of Chicago; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending but will be held at One Way Church of Christ, Apostolic Faith, 2001 Market St., East St. Louis, with Elder H. McDonald officiating.

Thomas Harman, electrical superintendent, Granite City Steel Division, National Steel Corporation, has been elected a director of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers.

He has begun a one-year board term for the 12,000-member international technical society serving the steel industry.

Taken to surgery

Drew Duncan, 32, Sorento, Ill., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital from Greenville Memorial Hospital at 1:35 a.m. Sunday when he was hurt in a head-on auto accident on Route 127 near Greenville at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Duncan suffered a broken left forearm, cuts to the left side of his neck and to his lips and a nose injury. He was taken to surgery Sunday morning.

His car and the auto of Fred W. Smith, Redbud, were involved in the accident. Smith, 46, was injured but declined hospital treatment.

Victor Cox, 17, of 52 Briarhaven Drive, was injured when the auto in which she was a passenger was involved in an accident and she struck her head on the car's windshield. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:20 p.m. Thursday for contusions to her head and lacerations to her forehead. X-rays were taken and she was released.

School field trips limited

In an attempt to help conserve gasoline during the national shortage, the Granite City Board of Education has approved suggestions from the district's Field Trip Policy Committee, limiting official field trips from schools to 35 miles from the city.

The committee's report noted, "The President of the United States has requested the cooperation of the people in conserving our resources. This district feels we should honor this request and as an agency of the state of Illinois take the initiative and help set a good example."

"Field trips are expensive and time consuming. We feel these three reasons are most important and should be seriously considered before approval of a trip is granted," the committee suggested.

A list of rules and regulations for field trips was adopted by the board which limited trips to within a 35-mile radius of the district, limits elementary school classes to one trip per year and which treats school picnics as field trips.

Official field trips during school hours must be of direct educational benefit, as determined by each building principal. Trips for other than educational benefit must be taken on free time, according to the new policy.

The rules do note, "Realizing there are exceptions to any set of rules or regulations, it is the (principals') decision to justify the educational value of the event."

It also was noted, "A trip should not be approved that is taken for pleasure as its primary purpose, unless it is a club or organization reward. This type of trip should be allowed on free time only."

In other business the board: Gave permission to the Granite City Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest chairman, Charles Hayes, to contact high school and junior high school student councils to seek their support in the fund raising campaign.

Approved a request for Mrs. Glen Chabaud, chairman of the Granite City March of Dimes Campaign to seek voluntary pupil contributions in the elementary schools during March.

Authorized the Namekiki Parent-Teacher Association sponsored Cub Scout Pack 46 to use Coolidge Junior High School for a Blue and Gold Banquet Feb. 25.

Allowed the Maryville PTA to use that school April 18 for a rummage sale.

Authorized the McKinley PTA to use that school for the annual Ideas of March Carnival March 7.

Gave its consent to the Marshall School PTA to hold the annual school carnival there Feb. 28.

Agreed to allow Elks Lodge 1063 to give the district flyers to be sent home with students announcing a free evaluation clinic for physically handicapped children. The clinic will be from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, March 8, at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Authorized all board members and top administrators to attend the summer institutes of the National School Board Association, if they wish, July 14 to 18 at Colorado Springs, Colo.; Aug. 10 to 15 at San Diego, Calif.; and Aug. 24 to 28 Williamsburg, Va.

Four trips by teachers were approved. Maude Chilton and Vera Farrow are to attend the national convention of learning disabilities Feb. 26 to March 2 in New York with both sharing the reimbursement for the expenses of one.

Vasil Efthymiou, administrative assistant - pupil personnel, is to attend the Council for Exceptional Children convention in Los Angeles, April 20 to 25, with expenses paid.

William Schmitt, GCHS South wrestling coach, was granted expenses to attend the National Wrestling Coaches' Association meeting in Princeton, N. J., March 12 to 15.

The board also granted permission to Gordon L. Galbraith, audio-visual director, to attend the Audiovisual Educational Communications and Technology Convention in Dallas, Tex., April 13 to 17.

The board approved participation by students who wish to enter the Madison County Farm Bureau Junior Women's Contest, 1975 safety essay contest. Essays should be on the topic, "Safety On Public Roads."

Awards will be given to the top three entries in three classes - elementary, junior high and high school. Essays in length are from 400 to 700 words and are due by March 21.

Farming 'revolution' began here Howlett

Events of the bicentennial celebration next year should recognize the role of the American farmer in helping make the United States the world's strongest nation.

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said Friday.

Howlett spoke at the opening session of the Illinois Farmers Union 21st annual convention at Springfield.

"Without the freedoms on which our nation was founded, we would not have the strong, free farm industry which has made us the granary of the world," Howlett said.

"In Revolutionary times, there was not much farming in what is now Illinois. We did not become a state until 1818, but the agricultural revolution started in Illinois."

"John Deere's steel plow, perfected in 1837, broke the prairie sod, too tough for earlier implements."

"Cyrus Hall McCormick came to Illinois from Virginia in 1847 with his reaper that cut five times as much wheat as the old scythe and cradle method."

"Illinois now exports more farm products than any other state. We are the soybean capital of the world."

"Food raised by the Illinois farmer is consumed around the globe."

"The housewife thinks more about farm products today than ever before. When she buys a gallon of milk, or a loaf of bread, she may wonder where the money goes."

"In 1974, food prices rose about 15 per cent. But four-fifths of the increase went to processors and distributors. Only one fifth went to the farmer."

things grow and gasoline to make the tractor run.

"To keep the American people on a nutritious diet, we need a healthy, prosperous farm industry," Howlett asserted.

"The American people, he said, they are growing taller. They live longer."

"Overseas, the story is different. Millions in Africa, Bangladesh and elsewhere are dying of starvation unless we ship them food."

"Since 1954, the United States has sent 143 million tons of grain to help the hungry people of the world."

"In an eight-year period, we provided 81 per cent of all the food aid contributions from developed countries to less developed countries."

"Farming is one of the oldest occupations in our land. Before the Europeans discovered America, the Indians were farming it."

"The Indians gave us corn, the potato, tobacco and chocolate. Before Independence, the early English colonists were exporting farm products — pickled beef and pork, onions, potatoes, wheat and corn."

"The farmer is a bulwark of our democracy. He is used to adversity. He doesn't panic in recession, depression, inflation or any other economic condition."

"When the story of our heritage is told in events of the bicentennial year, the story of the farmer should be told with it. The farmer has been essential to the building of our nation."

'Y' fitness program launched

Personal Physical Fitness is a new program being launched at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

The program is designed especially for those individuals who want to know exactly what shape they are in, exactly what to do and how much to do to get into better shape.

The personal physical fitness program is aimed primarily at men 35 years of age and older, because these individuals are the prime candidate for the nation's number one killer—cardiovascular disease.

Michael Tharp commented, Program director, he is one of the local YMCA's fitness experts. Personal physical fitness has three parts to it.

First, after a physicians release is obtained, there is a battery of tests to determine the degree of fitness in each one of the four major categories—cardiovascular, endurance, flexibility, muscular strength and endurance, and body composition.

Second, the test results are interpreted to the individual so he knows "where he stands."

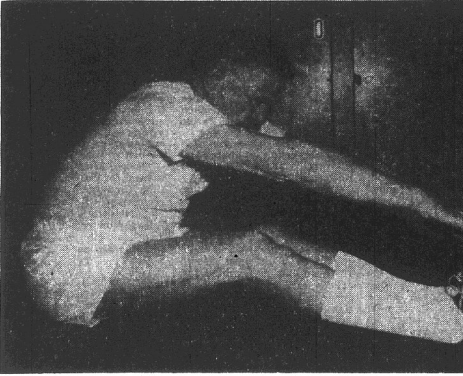

Third, an exercise program is individually tailored, based on the test results, personal preferences, time availability and life style.

The program is then reviewed after three weeks and necessary adjustments are made to keep the individual progressing, Tharp related.

Charles Dvoracek, 63, has gone through the program and has completed the first three weeks of exercise.

He came in at 208 pounds and is down to 175, trimming his 43-inch waist to 38.

He says he went to the "Y" to lose weight and to protect his heart.

PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAM is to be conducted at the YMCA by Michael Tharp. The picture shows Charles Dvoracek during an exercise segment designed to increase body flexibility. Dvoracek has lost 33 pounds since beginning his fitness activities.

He has made slow and steady progress. Still a long way from his goal, he says, "You just have to get started easy, and keep at it."

The personal physical fitness program is available to anyone who is interested, whether or not a "Y" member.

Cost is $10 for regular members and $4 for fitness center members. Tests and consultation are by appointment only.

Mrs. Riess, 65, dies suddenly

Mrs. Clara A. (Bertacchi) Riess, 65, of 2309 Hodges Ave., was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2 p.m. Thursday.

She became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to the hospital. An inquiry will be held.

Mrs. Riess was a retired clerk at the P.N. Hirsch store and was a member of the Retail Clerks Union. She also was a member of the Golden Agers, Daughters of Isabella, Sacred Heart Church and the Altar Society at the church.

She is survived by her husband, Orville Riess; two daughters, Mrs. William (Dolores) Stralhorn of Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Ronald (Pat) McKee of Granite City; one son, Gerald Riess of Cleveland, Ohio; one brother, Primo Arthur Bertacchi of Granite City, and ten grandchildren.

She is the daughter of the late Sisto and Elvira Bertacchi and sister of the late Richard Bertacchi.

Funeral services were held Saturday. Details are given in the obituary column.

Robert Kelly, Kiwanis guest

Robert Kelly, Granite City building inspector, explained to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club at its Thursday morning meeting that his office covers a multitude of areas such as zoning law compliance, building permits, approving construction plans and on-site inspection.

Kelly said that his department tries to work with a landlord or property owner to fix up a building or home rather than condemn the structure, due to the ever-increasing cost of construction.

Kelly explained that his office particularly tries to help elderly persons obtain proper housing. He said David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, and local realty companies, are particularly helpful in this area.

Kiwanian Ronald Coleman introduced Officer Glen Wright as his guest and prospective member.

Next Thursday morning, William Monical, scout executive for the Cahokia Mound Council will speak to the club. February is observed nationally as Boy Scout month.

Delay fire hydrant program

A $10,000 appropriation from Nameki Township to have fire plugs installed in territory served by the Long Lake Fire Protection District was the topic of discussion during the fire district's regular meeting Thursday night at the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department Hall in Pionton Beach.

The Nameki Town Board Auditors offered the $10,000 from federal revenue sharing funds to the fire district two years ago and the fire district conducted a survey to determine the best placements for approximately 10 fire plugs the money would purchase.

The fire district requested that the money be "carried over" into the township's 1974-75 budget and the town auditors agreed.

Fire trustees agreed Thursday night that plans for the fire plugs have not been completed and voted to have Harold Davis, a trustee, write to the township requesting the money be carried over one more year while final plans are established.

The board also discussed a proposed $16,500 grant from the township in the Community Development Program which could be used for the purchase and equipping of a new rescue truck for the fire department.

Madison County Civil Defense also will purchase a portion of the equipment.

Several firemen indicated they have been studying the cost of a new emergency truck and reported they do not feel the funds the township is offering will be sufficient to purchase the truck and half of the needed equipment. They said they would continue to investigate the cost of a new truck.

The board discussed recent annexations by Granite City which are reducing the size of the township and of the fire district.

The trustees requested Davis to write to Nameki Township Supervisor Louis Whitezell pledging their support for any actions taken to oppose recent annexations or to stop new annexations by Granite City.

A letter from the Illinois Association of Fire Protection Districts was read, inviting trustees to attend the annual convention of the group March 6 and 7 in Peoria.

The board agreed to pay $1,692 for its annual liability insurance premium. The insurance covers the fire department and the firemen.

Mrs. Mildred Hutchings dies

Mrs. Mildred J. Hutchings, 57, of 1818 Third St., Madison, died at 3:28 a.m. Friday at her home. She had been ill seven months with cancer.

Mrs. Hutchings was a lifelong resident of Madison and was a member of First United Presbyterian Church of Madison.

Surviving are her husband, Paul Hutchings; a son, John Hutchings of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. David (Barbara) Kelly of El Cajon, Calif., and Miss Paula Hutchings of Joliet; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Michels of Madison, and four grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Indict 3 in murder attempt

A Madison County grand jury Thursday afternoon indicted three of four persons who allegedly were involved in an attempt to take the life of Charles Ragan, 40, of 15 Lakeview Drive, Pionton Beach, the night of Nov. 29, 1974.

Ragan since has recuperated from gunshot wounds, but may require additional treatment.

Indicting on a charge of attempted murder were Ragan's wife, Mrs. Carolyn Faye Ragan, 30, of the 1400 block of Fourth St., Madison; Carl O. Nightwine, 22, of the 4000 block of North Street, and Robert F. Perigo, 24, of the 2700 block of Denver Street.

A fourth suspect has not been indicted.

In a second count, Perigo and Mrs. Ragan were indicted on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the attempted murder. A third count alleges conspiracy between Perigo and Nightwine.

A fourth count alleges Mrs. Ragan engaged in solicitation with intent to have her husband murdered in that she allegedly requested and encouraged Perigo to commit murder.

It charges she solicited the murder attempt and two men went to Ragan's home, entered a key and shot the victim twice while he was watching television.

Opportunity for effective service to region by Sasyk

Appointment of Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison to the board of commissioners of the Missouri-Illinois Bi-State Development Agency gives him a unique opportunity for constructive service to the metropolitan region.

The ten-member Bi-State Agency operates the bus transit system, Bi-State Parks Airport, the transportation system within the Gateway Arch, and a wharf and river terminal at Granite City. In fulfilling these roles, it is the principal governmental agency with direct operating powers in both states.

Mayor Sasyk also serves on the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council by virtue of his position as vice-president of the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors. East-West coordinates planning throughout the bi-state region, commenting for federal aid purposes on development-construction projects submitted by local-level governmental bodies for their areas.

Such board memberships will provide Mayor Sasyk with broader understanding of the issues facing both Bi-State and East-West—and wider opportunity to devise adequate ways to meet them.

Lincoln's philosophy offers courage in troubled times

The 166th anniversary on Wednesday of the birth of Illinoisian Abraham Lincoln, United States President during the Civil War, brings thoughts of some of his classic philosophical comments:

"When it comes to this (oppression of people), I shall prefer emigrating to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty—to Russia, for instance, where despotism can be taken pure, and without the base alloy of hypocrisy."

"Accustomed to trample on the rights of others, you have lost the genius of your own independence and become the fit subjects of the first cunning tyrant who rises among you."

"Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world?"

"Among free men, there can be no successful appeal from the ballot to the bullet."

Lincoln conceded that "we cannot escape history" and that "we must live through all time." But, for troubled periods such as this, his words continue to counsel courage and confidence:

"By the best cultivation of the physical world beneath and around us, and the best intellectual and moral world within us, we shall secure an individual, social and political prosperity and happiness whose course shall be onward and upward and which, while the earth endures, shall not pass away."

To extend Lambert usefulness—nonexistent technologies

Comment by Post-Dispatch—Inasmuch as the proposals for extending the life of Lambert Field prepared by the Ralph M. Parsons Co. of Los Angeles are based largely on the assumption that as yet undeveloped technologies soon will be perfected and in use, it comes as no surprise that the Federal Aviation Administration has found the consulting firm's report deficient and has asked for it to be revised.

As the FAA points out in a letter to Parsons, advanced technologies such as the microwave landing system and vortex detection or dissipation systems on which the recommendations rely "certainly should be considered."

However, as the FAA continues, "recommendations should not be based strictly on the potential effect of advanced technologies since there is a possibility that some of these systems will not be developed in time to meet the future operational demands at Lambert

Field and some might not be developed at all."

Indeed, it is scarcely understandable how reputable professionals could omit dealing with the possibility that such advanced systems might not be available.

One explanation may be that no other possibility exists for stretching out Lambert's usefulness except through technologies which as of now are nonexistent.

If so, the Parsons answer to the FAA should be revealing.

But the main point which no one ought to lose sight of is the one noted the other day by former Secretary of Transportation Brinegar; and that is, even with advanced technologies, Lambert is an airport with a limited future.

That being the case, is not the course of prudence to push on with the new airport on the east side, a facility about which there is no argument concerning its adequacy well into the next century?

Controversial prison furlough system is defended as way to cut repeat offenses

By BILL WINTER

One of the most controversial state programs in memory is the prison furlough program being pursued by the Illinois Department of Corrections.

With crime continuing at a high level, and with the death penalty blocked by court rulings even where new capital punishment bills have been enacted, many citizens are wary of proposals to swing open prison doors.

There was particular concern in the Chicago area during the past holiday season. The hue and cry developing there prompted Illinois Corrections Director Alvin R. Siefaff to promise to give each county's state's attorney advance notice.

Notification now goes to the county where a prisoner is to be furloughed 15 days before the release in order for local officials to be on guard for possible repeat law violations.

A 16-year-old ward of the Juvenile Division of the Department of Corrections was questioned in the Dec. 28 fatal shooting in Chicago of a former policeman who was working as a private security officer. Three other youths also were questioned concerning the death.

A 14-year-old who was not under the department's custody later was charged with murder and armed robbery. Police contended that the weapon involved was found in the home of the youth charged.

The Juvenile Division ward had been committed to the department on July 1, 1974, for probation violation. He was placed at Mississippi Palisades, a small youth center in Illinois, and studied welding, remedial reading and mathematics.

He successfully completed an authorized absence in October and was granted one extending from Dec. 19 to Dec. 30. Parole had been denied on Dec. 18.

Authorized absences for juveniles are separate and distinct from prisoner furloughs.

Authorized absences have been used extensively in Illinois since 1957 as part of the treatment program and release planning for juveniles.

They are supervised, in that a parent or adult must accept responsibility in writing. The failure rate of authorized absence is about half that of parole.

The ward denied that he did the shooting or was present, but claimed to know who did.

Siefaff asserted Jan. 3 that no agency, criminal or juvenile, had involved inmates on furlough during the Christmas and New Year's holiday season.

A total of 116 inmates received furloughs statewide during the period of Dec. 20 to Jan. 2.

All inmates reported back to their institutions on time and without incident," said Siefaff, "proving, once again, that successful furloughs are the rule and not the exception in Illinois."

He added, "We believe that the opportunity inmates have to correct their institutions had to spend the holidays with their families, strengthened family ties and will help in making them safer members of society when they return to the streets after serving their term."

At a news conference Jan. 7, Siefaff said, "The furlough program was enacted into law in the bi-partisan support of the Illinois General Assembly under the previous administration."

"Such a program has been adopted by 43 other states and the federal government. It is advocated by all national agencies, professional organizations and study groups dealing with corrections."

"There are two important reasons for this support. One is that furloughs help reduce recidivism. Offenders are less likely to return to crime after release from prison if they have a decent job, residence and family situation."

"Secondly, a furlough program is essential to prison reform. It permits leave for emergencies, bridges re-entry into society, aids in parole decision-making, relieves homosexuality in prison and improves inmate morale."

"Illinois' furlough program has been administered with 99.4 per cent success, second among the best in the nation."

"I pledge to continue to give uppermost attention to public safety."

"Our regulations governing the program have been constantly improved to provide safeguards that minimize risk."

"Special care will be emphasized in determining probability of those whose convictions received notoriety."

However, offenders who are released and who once committed serious crimes need the program as much as, or more than, others."

"Improvement in predicting human behavior will continue to be a major goal."

On the other hand, for each failure, the program has hundreds of successes though they are less dramatic, less visible and less newsworthy."

Updated statistics on the prison furlough program were released by Siefaff in late January.

From the inception of the program in mid-1972 through Dec. 31, 1974, Siefaff said, 8,802 furloughs were granted. There were 39 AWOL's (absent without leave), 33 of whom were subsequently apprehended, and 10 criminal incidents.

Most serious incidents during the 2½-year period were a homicide shortly after the program began and one in November 1974.

Siefaff said the success rate has remained constant—99.9 per cent of all furloughs were completed without a new crime, and 99.4 per cent were completed without either an AWOL or criminal incident.

He stressed that the furlough program was established by statute and allows screened inmates temporary release from prison to prepare for parole.

"Prison furloughs are used nationwide and are regarded as a necessary measure," he concluded.

Siefaff also announced results of the Corrections Department's work release program.

This program, selected inmates nearing parole live under supervision in residential centers, work in the community and support themselves and their families.

From Jan. 1, 1973, through Dec. 31, 1974, there were 3,760 leave grants in the work release centers, the majority for home and family visits. During the two-year period, 99.6 per cent of the leavees were completed successfully.

There were nine AWOL's and four criminal incidents. The most serious incident occurred since that report, in mid-January 1975, when a resident was charged in the fatal shooting of his brother-in-law.

Siefaff said, "There is no way to eliminate the risk of some failures in the above programs without keeping everyone locked up."

"The department's concern about making the best possible decisions to ensure public safety is reflected in the fact that Illinois continues to have one of the leading records of success of all states and the federal government."

In response to a late-December Cook County grand jury letter calling for an end to the furlough program, the state director said Illinois has operated conservatively.

"Connections and New York have furloughed many more—5,640 for the former state in fiscal 1974 alone and 9,500 of offenders in the latter since July 1972."

"Illinois is one of 43 states with furloughs, and in each state it has proved a highly successful deterrent to crime, giving the offender a chance to redevelop family ties, and education and to find a job before being released on parole."

"While any person or group can call for an end to it, termination would be unfortunate. The future of the program must be decided in the courts and General Assembly, based on its successes in the past and its present."

The Corrections Department has compiled a packet of information about the furlough program.

Any interested individual or organization may obtain a copy by writing the Illinois Department of Corrections, Office of Public Information, 400 Army Building, Springfield, Ill. 62766.

Energy crisis demonstrates that economic stability, national security no longer solely in U.S. hands

Remarks by U.S. Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton last week to the St. Louis Commerce and Growth Association.

America has always been blessed with huge stores of potential energy. Abundance has been the overriding characteristic of the energy marketplace.

Most energy forms, especially coal and oil, have existed in large quantities in the United States.

We still have enough coal to last us 350 years at present rates of consumption, and there are estimated potential recoverable reserves of oil, primarily oil from shale, enough to last for over two centuries.

One of this historic abundance, these energy forms moved freely and competitively from producer to consumer.

Coal and oil became the foundation of our industrial base and helped to raise our standard of living to the highest it has ever seen. Right up to World War II, this nation was entirely self-sufficient in energy.

Certain areas of the country were especially hard hit, and gasoline lines were a general inconvenience for everyone.

Then, an attack on the oil had come, the embargo was lifted, and the tankers once again off-loaded their black riches at our ports.

The gasoline lines disappeared, but the embargo was replaced by a new and far more insidious problem: doubling, tripling and then quadrupling of world oil prices. At that point, what had been a crisis of supply became a crisis of price. The annual bill for imported oil rose from $6.5 billion to nearly $25 billion, and I and I are paying that extra price.

By way of reference, $25 billion is enough to operate the Missouri state government for twelve years at its present budget level.

Our continued reliance on foreign oil, it would be enough to create 2,000,000 new U.S. jobs. On a pro-rated basis, that would mean about 30,000 jobs for the St. Louis area.

Our continued reliance on foreign oil and the resulting transfer of wealth to the producing nations is intolerable. It affects our monetary structure and the ability of our economy to grow and expand to provide opportunities for generations of Americans to come.

It leaves us vulnerable to the whims of world politics, and it forces us to compete for all in the world market with nations far less fortunate than we.

Unless we can limit this reliance on foreign oil, the task of restoring our economic stability and preserving our national security and self-esteem may be impossible to achieve.

That is the scope of our problem. What, then is our policy? The policy of the United States: To be substantially energy independent by 1985.

To reduce our energy use per capita and per unit of output to limit the rate of growth in energy demand to 2.3 per cent per year, rather than the 6 per cent growth rate we have had in the past.

To develop new supplies of conventional energy from our resources and to convert wherever possible to the use of coal instead of oil or gas.

To develop a massive commitment now to the development of new technologies on which generations of Americans can rely for energy.

To involve all aspects of government—federal, state, local and regional, the country, and all groups of citizens in the pursuit of these objectives and in the sacrifices needed to attain them.

It is our national goal to pursue these policies with an increasing concern for the quality of our environment.

These are our policies. The program which the President has presented to Congress contains specific measures for meeting these objectives.

We propose to reduce barrels per day by the end of 1977. Our goal is to achieve an import level of about three million barrels per day by 1985—less than half what is today.

We propose to achieve these reductions by a combination of actions designed to limit consumption, to increase domestic production.

It should be emphasized that the solution to our energy problem is not a matter of conservation or increased supply: it is a matter of conservation plus an increase in supply.

Any program that does not deal with both sides of the energy equation—demand and supply—is doomed to failure.

For those who think that conservation alone can lead us out of our problems, I would point to the depletion of our gas fields and are depleting at a rate of about 8 per cent per year.

Our program, however, begins with conservation.

The President proposes to reduce consumption through a series of economic incentives to conserve the use of energy, especially oil and gas.

These incentives include an excise tax of $2 per barrel of oil and a 37½-cent tax per thousand cubic feet of natural gas.

On the form of tax rate reductions and allowances.

Nonpaying citizens would receive another $2 billion in the form of direct cash payments.

Corporations and businesses would receive $6 billion in tax rate reductions, and firms a tax credit of up to $150 would be given homeowners to help with the cost of retrofitting existing homes with insulation and other energy-saving materials.

He has proposed tougher thermal standards for new construction and efficiency standards on all new appliances.

We have already obtained an agreement with the auto industry to increase gasoline mileage by a fleet average of 40 per cent by the 1978 model year.

Taken together, these conservation measures will save us about 3.8 million barrels a day by 1985.

On the supply side of the equation, the President proposes to increase leasing of oil and gas reserves.

Outer Continental Shelf in order to raise OCS production by about 1.5 million barrels a day.

He has asked Congress for authority to produce up to 300,000 barrels a day from the Elk Hills Naval Petroleum Reserve in California and for authority to develop Naval Petroleum Reserve Number Four in Alaska to a level of two million barrels per day by 1985.

He has asked Congress to deregulate natural gas in order to stimulate exploration for new reserves to eliminate the inefficient uses of natural gas due to its artificially low price.

He has requested authority to allow conversion of existing and new power plants from oil or gas to coal, which can replace 100,000 barrels a day of imported oil by 1977.

The President has called for the doubling of coal production from the present level of 500 million tons a year to about 1.2 billion tons in 1985. This will involve 250 new coal mines—mines designed to incorporate improved safety and environmental practices.

He has asked that we move forward with development of geothermal resources, with oil shale development and with the increased use of synthetic fuels.

He has requested that Congress enact laws to expedite the siting and licensing of nuclear power plants and to provide increased funding for nuclear safety and nuclear waste disposal.

The target for these actions is the creation of 200 new nuclear power plants by 1985.

He proposes to establish a strategic reserve of oil—up to 1.3 billion barrels, enough to last us up to three years in the event of another embargo.

Finally, the President has committed funds amounting to $10 billion over the next five years to begin research and development in nuclear and renewable fuels that will help sustain our way of life toward the end of this century and beyond.

We are engaged in a very basic struggle... a struggle for economic survival.

We can count our blessings and be thankful that we have been given ample opportunity to succeed.

With your help and the help and understanding of all Americans, we can and we will succeed.

Thompson reminds some Illinois voters of JFK

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

On first impression, Jim Thompson strikes you as a person who several seasons ago might have played fullback for Ohio State.

He could be the next governor of Illinois.

At 38, James R. Thompson, U. S. attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, is rated as one of the brightest political prospects in the state.

There is no doubt that he would like to run for governor next year, and many Republicans would welcome his candidacy.

His brilliant record as a prosecutor at Chicago, which has included convictions of such prominent political figures as former Gov. Otto Kerner and former Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, has already won him a name recognition in the Chicago area that would make him a formidable opponent for anyone in any election.

Now he is branching out a little bit, making numerous speeches beyond the Chicago city limits and accepting some speaking invitations Downstate. Thompson averages about five letters a day requesting appearances.

Since his name began popping up as a gubernatorial possibility, he has been receiving substantial mail urging that he become a candidate.

Late last year, he toyed briefly with the idea of running for mayor of Chicago, but dropped it after polls showed that he—nor anybody else—stood a chance of beating Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Many people who advised him against becoming involved in the mayor's race did suggest that he was more "qualified" to run for governor.

A statewide race is much more attractive, for there is a feeling beneath the Statehouse Dome that Democratic Gov. Dan Walker can be beaten in 1976.

Probably the biggest problem facing Thompson on his presumed road to the Statehouse is obtaining the GOP nomination.

Atty. Gen. William J. Scott, whom he served for more than a year as a top prosecutor, is the clear-cut favorite at this stage. But not everyone is certain that Scott really wants to run for governor. If he doesn't, Thompson looms as an excellent alternative.

He might well be the best qualified person to take on Walker or any other Democrat, should the hopes of some anti-Walker Democrats prevail and the governor be dumped in the primary.

Thompson comes across forcefully as a personality. A husky six foot, four inches, he reminds one of an oversize John F. Kennedy, radiating a similar aura of youth, vigor and intellectual brilliance.

Like Kennedy, Thompson is a man in motion, with bright, piercing eyes, perpetually dancing behind squared lenses. His sandy hair is moderately trimmed and, all in all, he possesses those unique physical qualities which translate into votes on television.

Surprisingly, perhaps, he is still a bachelor.

Thompson recognizes that his "do gooder" public image resulting from his prosecuting of so many political figures could be a handicap in winning support from party regulars. But this image would undoubtedly gain him votes from independents in any governor's race.

Thompson has acquired some good friends on the Democratic side. He has developed a close friendship with popular Democratic Secretary of State

Michael J. Howlett and has a "cordial" relationship with Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan. He gets along well even with Dan Walker.

The question inevitably arises: How does his ex-boss Bill Scott feel about Thompson's recognized gubernatorial ambitions?

"We talk about it," Thompson says, adding that Scott keeps his own plans to himself.

Tuition cut rather than increase urged by SIUE

Renewed support for gradual reductions and eventual elimination of tuition charges at state universities was voiced Saturday by Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Rendleman said he "disagreed emphatically" with a report by a study committee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, which recommended that tuition levels be increased until tuition equals one-third of the cost of a student's college education.

The SIUE president said he strongly supports a recommendation made by a committee named by the SIU Board of Trustees to study the entire problem of tuition.

That committee, in a report made in November 1973, urged the BHE to "explore a step-by-step transition which would achieve the result of providing higher education in Illinois on a tuition-free basis."

The report was endorsed by the trustees and forwarded to the BHE as the official position of the Southern Illinois University system.

Members of the SIU study committee included William Allen of Bloomington and Mrs. Margaret Blackshire of Madison, members of the SIU board; James Brown, general secretary of the SIU system; Rendleman and David R. Derge, then president of SIU at Carbondale.

The SIU trustees' position, as stated in the report, is that tuition should have been reduced to the level of 1970 charges this year and that continual reductions should be made in an orderly manner to permit the state to review its revenue position and seek alternative sources of income to support state universities on a tuition-free basis.

The SIU trustees followed their recommendation November 1973 with a resolution adopted last December which said that "the level of tuition charges is now and ought to remain within the sound discretion of local governing boards."

That resolution was in reply to a report by the Illinois Health Education Commission staff recommending tuition increases at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, and at the Medical School in Springfield which is part of SIUC.

Rendleman has been a longtime foe of tuition increases, especially at SIUE, because the majority of students enrolled come from families whose incomes place them in the lower segment of the economy.

"Seventy-five per cent of our students must work now in order to pay existing tuition charges.

"Any increase in tuition will mean an added hardship for thousands of students in this area who are seeking college training and whose families are already stretching their financial resources to the limit," Dr. Rendleman said.

Final week for free vehicle tags

This is the final week Madison residents may obtain city vehicle stickers at no charge. Residents may take their current state vehicle registration cards to the office of the city comptroller, 1529 Third St., Madison, between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. through Friday and receive the stickers.

As a special service the comptroller's office will be open Saturday, Feb. 15 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to issue the free vehicle stickers.

Beginning Monday, Feb. 17, fees will be $5 for cars, $4 for motorcycles and from $10 to $25 for trucks.

Commenting at the time the original SIU system recommendations were made to the BHE, Trustee Allen said the state has "made higher education a right of the poor, a privilege of the rich, and a serious problem for large numbers of students from middle-income families who

Gardening group at nursing home

As its 1975 civic project, the Garden Study Club has agreed to sponsor a gardening group for residents at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

Plans for the project were discussed at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. David B. Masten, 30 Oaklawn Drive.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon to eight members and a guest, Mrs. Bert St. Ivary. A Washington's Birthday theme was used on the serving tables.

Mrs. Wilmer Winter, president, said club members will meet monthly with residents at the nursing home who are interested in gardening and related subjects.

The club's annual guest day luncheon in May was discussed and plans for a plant and bake sale in April were made.

Roll call was answered by naming wild flowers.

Mrs. John Lehmann gave the program, "The Versatile Crocus." She described the history of the flower and its various species.

The Garden Study Club will meet in March at the home of Mrs. John Sigite on Fair Oaks Drive.

Loyalty Circle names chairman

Mrs. Doris Wigger was selected to serve as chairman by members of Loyalty Circle at the group's meeting last week in the Pathway Room at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

A business session was conducted by Mrs. Woodie Lytle, leader, who briefed future events, including the pre-Christmas bazaar and Tuesday's general meeting of the United Methodist Women. The UMW session will include a salad bar with each circle bringing several salads. Readings, pictures and music also will be featured.

The devotional lesson, "The Sweet Story of Jesus" taken from the book "World From Heaven," was read by Mrs. Dorothy Allen.

Mrs. Wigger served a dessert course to those mentioned and to Mrs. Lillian Compton, Mrs. Alice Cruse, Mrs. Clara Huber, Miss Mabel Stewart and Miss Katherine Van Order.

The meeting was adjourned with members reciting "The Lord's Prayer."

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jan Kohl, 2340 Gary Ave.

GC Elkettes hear Officer Friendly

Officer Friendly Glenn Wright of the Granite City Police Department was the guest speaker at a meeting last week of the Granite City Elkettes.

After the officer's presentation, Mrs. Lorraine Williams conducted a business session. She also presented a letter of appreciation to the officers who will be held at the March 4 meeting.

A Valentine dance for members and guests is scheduled Saturday at the Elks Club, she reported.

Members discussed future plans for the club rathskeller as a special project.

ILLINOIS... A SLAVE STATE?

Philip Renault brought the first slaves into the French held Illinois country in 1720; and although their descendants were finally freed by the courts in 1845, they caused political and legal problems until the Civil War.

The imaginative and seminal Northwest Ordinance of 1787 established guidelines for the creation of states in the large triangle of land between the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and the Great Lakes and supposedly banned slavery in what became Illinois. However, that provision was evaded by a system of indenture established during the territorial period and reinforced by the state legislature, permitting Negroes to be registered as servants, often for terms exceeding their lifetimes. Children born to the indentured servants were bound to the mother's master for terms of 30 years for males and 28 years for females. An attempt to repeal the indenture laws was vetoed in 1817 by the territorial governor, Ninian Edwards.

The fact that the first four governors held registered servants is one indication that proslavery feeling itself was strong in Illinois. The actual number of slaves was never large, with only 168 recorded in 1846 in 1830. Between 1000 and 2000, however, were regularly leased from Southern owners to work near Shawneetown under a constitutional provision allowing slaves there until 1825.

The man most responsible for the defeat of the proslavery forces was the state's second governor, Edward Coles. Coles freed his own slaves when he arrived in Illinois in 1819, and after three years as registrar of the Edwardsville land office he ran as the antislavery candidate for governor. Two candidates split the proslavery vote, and Coles took office.

Proslavery legislators soon recommended a referendum to hold a convention and change the state constitution to allow slavery. In the year and a half before the issue came to a vote in 1824, Coles organized a massive effort to defeat the "Proslavery" party. Organizing an antislavery society, he financed the campaign out of his gubernatorial salary. He found important allies in Englishman Morris Birkbeck and Baptist Missionary John Mason Peck. Proslavery forces were led by former Gov. Shadrach Bond; Jesse Thomas and Elias Kent Kane (both important in the convention which wrote the constitution of 1818); and the state's first congressman, John McLean.

The contest was one of the most heated in Illinois history, with the antislavery, anticonvention forces emerging victorious by a vote of 66 to 4972. Pseudo-slavery in the form of indenture continued until the Civil War; but this was the last attempt to make Illinois an official, constitutional, slave state.
